Additional filing for elections

By HARRY BARNES
Press-Record Staff Writer

The new year will bring to the Quad-City area a busy series of spring elections in which voters will elect city officials, township officers and park board commissioners.

While filing already is under way in Granite City for the municipal and township elections on April 5, other elections also are to be held in other parts of the area with filing dates scheduled to open Jan. 10.

Under the Election Code, Granite City conducts its municipal election on the first Tuesday of April because its boundaries are co-extensive to those of the township.

But city elections are held the third Tuesday of April (April 19 this year) in communities that are located within a township but have city boundaries not co-extensive to those of the township.

Thus, Madison, Venice and Ponton Beach in the Quad-City area will conduct April 19 elections. The Granite City Park District, applying an option for a variance in dates permitted by state law, also will hold its biennial election on April 19.

The Venice Park District, using the same legal option, will hold its election on April 5. In earlier years the Granite City Park District held its election at the same time as the Granite City municipal election and Venice Park Board members held their balloting in conjunction with the municipal elections in Venice on the third Tuesday of April.

Both park districts reversed these dates, however, because the city elections attracted the most attention. The park districts used different polling places and many voters who went to the polls to ballot in the city elections did not make another visit to the park election polls.

Filing of nominating petitions for the city elections in Madison, Venice and Ponton Beach will open on Jan. 10 and continue through Feb. 14, with petitions filed with the city or village clerk.

Park Board candidates in either the Venice or Granite City elections will file nominating petitions as candidates from Jan. 10 through Jan. 24, a 14-day filing period compared to a five-week filing period for candidates in the city elections.

In Venice this year, voters will elect a mayor, city clerk, city treasurer and one alderman in each of the city's four wards. Aldermanic terms expiring this year are those of Harry Buente of the First Ward, Hank Svezia of the Second Ward, John Ervin of the Third Ward and Tyrone Echols of the Fourth Ward.

Also expiring are the terms of Mayor William "Mike" Ebersold, City Clerk Lloyd Patterson and City Treasurer Henry Baucum. While filing has not yet opened, Ebersold has announced he will seek re-

CHOUTEAU TOWN BUILDING is beginning to take shape rapidly near the township's present highway garage in Mitchell. The building will house a town hall and a community center and is being constructed entirely with federal revenue sharing and community development grant funds at no direct cost to the taxpayers of the township. Because of a new $22,000 grant from community development discretionary funds, the building now is being constructed as originally designed at a cost of about $187,291. Revisions had been made to reduce the cost, but the latest grant enabled the town board to reinstate portions of the building deleted when construction bids exceeded the architect's estimate of $140,000.

Outlook for 1977 positive

By Babson's Reports Inc.,
Wellesley Hills, Mass.

Although surrounded a year ago by fears that the then young business recovery might peter out, the staff of Babson's Reports went ahead and issued a reassuring forecast calling for further economic progress in 1976.

At the same time, however, we warned that there would not be a return to outright boom conditions because of the absence of such vital ingredients as massive business capital outlays, positive inventory accumulation, and aggressive consumer demand.

In retrospect, 1976 did chalk up additional progress, even though economic conditions were indeed a mixed bag. As predicted, consumer spending lacked vigor during much of the past year, capital spending for new plant and equipment was hesitant, and business inventory policies were cautious.

1977 OUTLOOK PROMISING. As 1976 bows out and 1977 makes its debut, studies conducted by the Research Department of Babson's Reports indicate that the upbeat in economic activity can be sustained during the coming twelvemonth.

The post-recession revival which began in the spring of 1975 is still far short of maturity.

In fact, it should have enough vitality to extend its life span beyond the average length of cyclical recovery-expansion phases seen in the past.

There have yet to develop the major economic imbalances which have signaled such reversals before.

STRENGTH IN THE FIRST HALF
In the 1976 forecast, we looked for economic strength to be concentrated early in the year, and indeed the most impressive year-to-year gain was registered in the first quarter.

As of now, it appears likely that in 1977 the high point will occur in the second quarter, owing principally to the probable extra thrust from strike-hedge inventory accumulation in the face of Big Steel labor talks.

Year-to-year gains are expected in the second half of 1977 over the like 1976 period, but the shape of business progress will be influenced by the steel industry's labor negotiations. Protracted work stoppages

School voting on a Saturday is still likely

An election in which Granite City School District 9 will elect three members of the Board of Education this year is almost certain to be held on Saturday, April 9, it was reported today. Customarily school elections are held on the second Saturday of April. School districts, however, have an option to hold elections on the first Tuesday of April, a date that would coincide with some city and all township elections.

Some school districts in Illinois are applying the optional date of April 5 this year because Easter Sunday falls on April 10, the day after the date of a Saturday election.

A school official said today that the Granite City School board is expected to use the customary Saturday date this year as it has in the past, although the annual election timetable has not yet been approved by the School Board.

The Granite City School Board members whose terms

Arch Monson Jr. national president of the Boy Scouts of America, will be the guest speaker Saturday, Feb. 5, at the 27th annual Scouters' Recognition Dinner of the Cahokia Mound Council, BSA, in the Granite City High School North cafeteria.

Monson of San Francisco, Calif., is president of Monson-Pacific Inc.

He has been president of the nation's largest youth organization since 1973, a member of the 50-man national Scout executive board since 1965 and was vice-president of the BSA 1973-74.

President of the San Francisco Rotary Club, he also is vice-president of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce.

Other affiliations include: past president of the Bohemian Club of San Francisco, past Commodore Corinthian Yacht Club, trustee of Golden Gate College Pacific Medical Center, the Salvation Army and the YMCA.

Reservations for the dinner, which is open to the public, may be made by contacting the Boy Scout office, 2015 Delmar Ave. Arrangements for the speaker were made by Gene H. Sternberg, a member of the national BSA executive board and the local Cahokia Mound Council.

CHURCH BUSES DAMAGED
Fourteen windows and three windshields were smashed by vandals in five church buses at Grace Baptist Church, 2600 Edwards St., in an incident reported at 3:40 p.m. Friday. A blunt instrument and BB pellets were used to break the glass, officers said.

The Cahokia Lodge, Order of the Arrow, was presented Thursday night the E. Umer Goodman Award for work done in the promotion of scout camping.

Twenty lodges of the 450 in the United States were chosen for the award, and the local Cahokia Lodge has the distinction of being the only lodge in the United States to have been so honored three times.

The presentation was made by Bert Bender, sectional chief of Area 3B of the Order of the Arrow, at the group's fellowship banquet Thursday evening at St. John's United Church of Christ on Nameoki Road. The

Robber takes bag, $300

A robber stole a money bag containing $300 and made a successful getaway at 6:50 p.m. Friday, near the night deposit box at American National Bank of Granite City, Nameoki and Fehling roads.

The same man apparently attempted to get another depositor to relinquish a money bag a moment or two earlier at the same location.

Cindy Kemp, an employee of H. Salt Fish and Chips, 1512 Johnson Road, said a man walked up to her with his right hand inside his coat pocket and stated, "Give me the money."

The woman tried to put the money in the bank depositary, but the man threatened her, saying "Give it to me or I'll drop you now" and indicated he had a weapon.

After he grabbed the bag and the robber pushed the woman and told her to leave. She said the man ran to a car parked nearby and drove east along Fehling Road.

A witness to the robbery called police and said the robber had turned south on Nameoki Road, driving at a high rate of speed. The car was described as a newer model pale yellow Cadillac.

An officer in a squad car at 27th Street and Madison Avenue recalled seeing an auto matching the description traveling south on Madison Avenue at a fast speed, but was unable to transmit information due to radio malfunction. Also he was unaware that the robbery had taken place.

Lynda Dacus, an employee of Clothes-To-You store, 4 Crossroads Plaza Shopping Center, said a man approached

Consumer tips—heat conservation

By BARR MAYER

Washington Bureau

Consumers can minimize their natural gas bill by making renewed efforts to cut energy use.

Some ways to do that are spelled out in three government publications, "Tips for Energy Savers," "Making the Most of Your Energy Dollars" and "In the Bank Or Up the Chimney?"

They include the following: —Lower your thermostat to 65 to 68 degrees during the day and 60 degrees at night. A decrease of six degrees can save you 15 per cent on your heating bill.

—Have your furnace serviced once a year—an adjustment could save your family 10 per cent in fuel consumption.

—Keep draperies and shades open in sunny windows, and close them at night.

—Insulate your home by caulking and weather stripping doors and windows, installing storm windows and doors, insulating the attic and walls.

—Wear an extra layer of insulation yourself—a warm sweater or shirt—stay com-

Registration opens Wednesday for BAC classes at Madison

Registration for spring semester general studies courses and college credit courses at the Madison Extension Center of Belleville Area College (BAC) will be held Wednesday and Thursday, and again on Jan. 10, 11 and 12. Registration will be held at the Madison High School, Sixth and Farish streets, Madison, from 5 p.m. until 9 p.m. For additional information, interested persons may call Charles Steptoe at 876-7010. Fees for the general studies courses are payable at the time of registration, credit courses fees will be billed to the individual by the college at a later date.

A general rule for credit courses would be a one time $10 registration fee and then $11 per credit hour, so a three credit hour course in the credit courses would be $43-$10 would be a one time registration fee and $33 tuition. There would be no other registration fee while the student is attending.

Registration will end Jan. 12, for credit and the first day of class in the general studies courses. Most courses will last one semester or 16 weeks. The standard cost per credit hour is $11 for indistrict residents. This, however, does not include the cost of books.

Twelve people are needed to have a class, Steptoe said. Classes start the week of Jan. 17.

Vincent Scrum is promoted

Great Lakes Carbon Corp. has announced new appointments for two of its management staff at the company's Missouri Coke and Chemical Division in St. Louis. George E. Smith Jr. has been appointed production superintendent. A Great Lakes employee since 1963, he has worked in many supervisory capacities and most recently as supervisor of the Coke Handling Department.

Smith resides in Millstadt, Ill., with his wife, Jeanette, and their children George, Denise and Allison. Succeeding him as coke handling supervisor is Vincent E. Scrum. Scrum has been with Great Lakes since 1968, working in accounting and supervisory positions.

He lives in Granite City with his wife, Annette, and their children Georgia, Todd, Brett and Jason.

Taxpayers may get assistance at IRS office

Every Monday and Tuesday are "assistance days" at the Alton IRS office, according to Danny Roland, manager. A tax assistant will be available on these days to help individuals needing personal attention with their Federal tax inquiries, Roland said. The Alton IRS office is located at 501 Belle Street. Office hours are from 8 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. and from 12 noon to 4:15 p.m. The IRS offers federal tax information on a year-round basis through the use of its toll-free telephone system. Taxpayers may call the toll-free number, 800-252-2921, any work day Monday through Friday between 8 a.m. and 4:45 p.m. and receive answers to their tax questions, Roland said.

ACCIDENT PATTERN is outlined on city streets by various types of pins placed in a map on the wall at city hall. Mrs. Marion Hennrich, Granite City Police Department, secretary, adds a pin indicating a recent auto accident on Johnson Road. At top of map (horizontally) is Pontoon Road. Pins ranging from Mrs. Hennrich's sleeve to top of map (vertically) signify Namecki Road.

Funds impounded in sales scheme

Illinois Attorney General William J. Scott has moved to protect more than 100,000 consumers who purchased $16.95 bargain-rate computer watches in a million-dollar nationwide pre-Christmas mail order scheme.

Attorney General Scott froze more than $1 million in four Chicago-area bank accounts of Teltronics, LTD., an Illinois corporation, sales representatives for a purported Hong Kong watch manufacturer that solicited sales through advertising in TV Guide, and other national magazines. Scott acted after initial complaints reached his office that the watches had not been delivered to consumers.

Attorney General Scott last week followed up the freeze orders by filing suit in Cook County Circuit Court to enjoin Teltronics, president, John Rodine, its vice-president, David Wong, and secretary treasurer, Raymond Chung from transferring or withdrawing monies from any accounts in Illinois. The three men's only known address is 6677 North Northwest Highway, Chicago, an answering service listed on Teltronics articles of incorporation.

Scott also asked the court to require restitution to all consumers who may have been victimized by this apparent fraud. He asked that the court impound Teltronics books and records and empower the attorney general's office to take custody of them.

In addition to the Northwest Highway answering service, Teltronics operated out of three Des Plaines business addresses.

Scott said that a known $1.1 million in Teltronics accounts has been impounded by his freeze orders in three banks. Scott said he was informed that following his freeze order an attempt was made by the main defendant, Rodine, to transfer $500,000 from the O'Hare Bank to a Mexico City Bank. In view of Scott's freeze order, the O'Hare Bank refused to transfer the money.

However, Scott said that about a week before consumers complained to his office, $300,000 of Teltronics money was transferred from the American National Bank and Trust Company of Chicago to a Mexico City bank.

Scott said that based upon investigation, more than $1.8 million in sales was made by Teltronics from its national sales campaign.

Since impounding Teltronics money, Scott said more than 300 complaints of non-delivery of watches have come to his attention from individuals and from Better Business Bureaus, Chambers of Commerce, and attorneys general throughout the country.

Police car stolen and recovered

While a Madison police officer was out of his car checking on a vehicle at Third Street and Madison Avenue, someone stole the police car he was driving. The incident took place at 4:10 a.m. Saturday.

At noon Saturday an unidentified woman called Venice police and reported that the squad car was on the east side of the Illinois Central and Gulf railroad tracks just off Illinois Route 3.

Madison police picked up the auto and it was found undamaged. The keys were missing.

dinner was attended by 150 lodge members.

Stanley Gene Evans, Highland, was presented by Lodge Chief Randy Affolter with the Arrowman of the Year Award for his service to the camping program of the Cahokia Mound Council. Evans is district commissioner of the Kickapoo District (Bond County).

The Order of the Arrow is a national honor camping society within the Scouting program. New recipients of the Vigil Honor, the highest honor bestowed on an Arrow member, were presented to the lodge by John Richard Hooks and Larry Todoroff, co-chairmen of the Vigil Honors Committee.

Members of the lodge receiving the Vigil in ceremonies at Camp Sunnen in September were: Louis Hobka of Collinsville, training chairman for the council; Kevin Wiese of Highland, assistant scoutmaster of Troop 43 of Highland; Dale R. Potter, scoutmaster of Troop 146 in Granite City, and Chief Affolter, associate adviser of Explorer Post 10-4.

Lodge officers for the coming year were introduced by Reginald Mennerick, council camping chairman: Chief Affolter; Robbie Schwarz of Highland, president of Explorer Post 79; vice-chief Keith Sanders, Post 10-4, lodge secretary, and Darrell Johns, Post 43 of Highland, lodge treasurer.

William Monical, supreme chief-of-the-fire, introduced J. Richard Hooks of Madison as the new lodge adult adviser.

Chapter adult advisers are Larry Todoroff for the Uniwah (Quad-Cities) chapter; Ben Hartmann of the Illinois (Collinsville-Edwardsville) chapter, and Jim Johns of the Kickapoo (Bond County) chapter.

Committee members planning the program were: Bob Moske, Lyle Tempel, Bill Kafalis, Bill Winter and Jack Taylor.

Ferry Toth was the adult advisor for the dinner, and Mike Yencho was chairman of the dinner.

Chief Affolter, in closing, issued a challenge to the membership, saying, "Brothers, I hope your year was a good one and that next year will even be better. It is that time of year to make resolutions."

"I hope that everyone plans on putting just a little more time aside for OA. The only way that we, the executive committee, can do anything is if we have the help and support of everyone in the coming year. And speaking of help, Lyle Tempel, this year's pancake chairman, will need a lot of help for the brunch."

"I hope we can do the job you expect, but only with your help will we be able to accomplish this."

Two boys caught in burglary try

Two 15-year-old boys face juvenile court action after they allegedly were caught by police inside a building at 2933 Washington Ave., at 2:05 a.m. today.

Herman Delahoye, who owns the building and who resides in a home at the rear of the building, said he has an intercom system linked between his home and the building and heard the boys breaking into the building. He then telephoned for police.

Patrolman Ed Wiesehan was the first to arrive on the scene.

CLOCK IS STOLEN
A $170 cuckoo clock is the only thing known missing after a burglary between Saturday and 9:05 p.m. Sunday at the home of Chalmers M. Tucker, 2106 Richmond Ave. The rear door from the patio was forced open after unsuccessful attempts to use a glass cutter on the rear storm door and on a window.

FIRE ON INDEPENDENCE
An electrical short-circuit started a fire which caused about $75 damage to the home of Richard Bays, 2311 Independence Drive, at 9:30 p.m. Friday. The fire had been extinguished when firemen arrived, but they were on the scene 40 minutes repairing the furnace so the family would have heat.

Pickup overturns

A northbound pickup truck operated by Timothy A. Stafford, 18, of 2720 Angela Drive, struck the center median on Madison Avenue, near Nameoki Road, turned over and came to rest on its top at 10:55 p.m. Saturday.

Police charged the operator with reckless driving. The report did not indicate whether Stafford or his two passengers sustained injuries.

CAB FARE DISPUTE
Eddie Abney, 45, of 1303 Twenty-First St., was charged with theft and disorderly conduct at 9 p.m. Friday at the rear of the City Hall in Granite City, when he reportedly refused to pay a $10.60 fare to the cab driver, Richard Caudill of the Checker Cab Co. Abney paid the fare the following day, the report stated.

GENERATOR BURNS
Granite City firemen were called to the A. O. Smith Corp. automotive frame plant on Route 3 at 12:40 a.m. Saturday for a fire in a large generator, but plant employees had extinguished the fire by the time firemen arrived. No estimate of the damage was given.

ARROWMAN OF THE YEAR. District Commissioner Gene Evans, right, of Highland, was presented the Arrowman of the Year Award by Lodge Chief Randy Affolter Thursday night. Evans was chosen from a membership of nearly 300 members for his outstanding service to the camping program of the Cahokia Mound Scout Council.

election, and Baucum has announced he will withdraw from politics. Patterson also is expected to file for re-election.

Madison voters also are to elect a mayor, clerk and treasurer and one alderman in each of the city's five wards. Aldermanic terms expiring this year, whose offices will be open to elections, are Dave Foster, First Ward; Richard Kismet, Second Ward; Ray Kozielek, Third Ward; Christ Costoff, Fourth Ward, and Booker Walton, Fifth Ward.

Also expiring are the terms of Mayor Mike Sasyk, City Clerk John Bolcoff and City Treasurer Albert Hoekstra. None of these officials have indicated their election plans this far.

In Pontoon Beach, only three members of the seven-man board of trustees will be elected. Candidates will compete for the terms now expiring of Donald C. Rea, Raymond Gaudette Jr. and Paul Bennett.

Voters of Pontoon Beach elect their mayor and village clerk in "off-year" elections because the village was established in 1963 which establishes the date for different four-year periods. In the park district elections, Venice will elect three members, two to regular six-year terms, and one to fill the remaining four years of an unexpired term now filled by appointment.

Regular terms to be filled in this year's election are those of Clifford Cayner and Alfred Dale Crawford. The unexpired four-year term subject to election is that now filled by Mrs. Mary Bauder. She was appointed to the term of John Mitchell, former Park Board president, who retired.

Other members of the Venice Park Board who continue to serve are Peter Ponce and Mrs. Valeta Bauder.

In the Granite City Park Board election, the terms of Barry Loman and Henry Gabriel will be subject to balloting this year. Other board members are George H. Sykes, Bob Patrick and Jake Hinters.

Probe use of stolen checks

Granite City authorities are conducting an investigation along with St. Louis authorities and the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) into cashing of forged checks at several banks, including one here at the First Granite City National Bank, Niedringhaus and Edison Avenues, in the amount of $285.

A check cashed here last month on an account of Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. and drawn from the Boatman's National Bank of St. Louis was reported as one of 25 checks stolen recently. Some of the stolen checks have been cashed in banks at Wood River, Belleville and Champaign.

Quick mine subsidence law urged

The 1976 House Executive Subcommittee on Mine Subsidence has recommended that the House Executive Committee convene immediately in January to devise a "legislative solution to the mine subsidence problem in Southern Illinois."

Monroe L. Flinn, D-Cahokia, chairman of the subcommittee and a Granite City Steel employee, says, "Over 80 per cent of the work of reaching a legislative solution to the subsidence problem was completed by the subcommittee."

"Using the subcommittee's records and documents, the full House Executive Committee in January will be able to reach a legislative answer in short order."

The report makes three basic recommendations:

1. The General Assembly should upon convening in January adopt a mine subsidence legislative package.
2. It should use the records of the subcommittee in reaching a solution.
3. The Assembly should more thoroughly study the problems that mine subsidence is causing on agriculture lands.

In a letter transmitting the report to John S. Matiejewicz, D-Chicago, chairman of the House Executive Committee, Flinn said he "had hoped that all members of the subcommittee would have reached agreement, but unfortunately this was not the case."

Flinn in his letter added that "an issue such as this is non-partisan and the main concern should be reaching an immediate solution that will aid those property owners suffering from mine subsidence."

The subcommittee originally was created in June, 1976 to study and make recommendations on the damage and losses mine subsidence causes for property owners.

Terrorist acts diminish U. S. freedom—Kelley

Law enforcement skirmishes with terrorists in 1975-76 should serve to remind Americans they have a terrorism problem demanding public vigilance, FBI Director Clarence M. Kelley said in a New Year's report.

Taking stock of terrorist violence and law enforcement's campaign against it, Kelley said:

"By no means is terrorism rampant in our country — fatalities may be declining — but we must consider these facts:

"There has been a superlative effort throughout the law enforcement community to prevent terrorist violence during our Bicentennial year."

"I think we can claim some measure of success. Certainly those well-publicized terrorist threats didn't materialize."

"Nevertheless, we have seen quite recently a series of enforcement, in partnership with the public, to remain vigilant."

"In addition to our home-grown terrorists, we Americans are reluctant hosts to small, warring, alien factions who seem willing to use our country into staging areas for violence elsewhere or battle-grounds for slaughter here."

He cited Miami, Fla., as an example, with more than 100 bombings there in the past two and a half years. Also, there have been at least five assassinations, and numerous attempts involving serious injuries.

According to testimony released by the Senate Subcommittee, as many as 50 militant Cuban groups — pro- and anti-Castro — have been active in Mexico, Central and South America and Cuba, as well as Miami.

Bombing targets in Miami have included the FBI's office, the Dade County police department, the state's attorney office and Miami International Airport.

"Authorities in Miami have had their hands full," Kelley said. "We are vigorously investigating cases within our jurisdiction and assisting local police in every way we possibly can."

"Be added, 'But in this situation as in other areas of law enforcement work, the full support and cooperation of the public is essential. Information regarding possible violence should be reported promptly. Testimony should be given willingly.'

"The person who says he 'doesn't want to get involved' could be the next innocent bystander killed."

Kelley noted that while there were 2,074 bombing incidents in the United States in 1975, only 47 of these could be linked to terrorists.

Through the first six months of 1976, 45 terrorist bombings occurred, compared to 47 in the first half of 1975. Ten persons were killed by terrorist violence in 1975.

While there were no deaths, 28 persons were injured in the 45 terrorist bombings through June of 1976. Property damage amounted to a half-million dollars.

From January 1975 through June 1976, 104 persons were injured in terrorist acts of violence. Property damage has been estimated at $3.2 million.

"Considering terrorist activity on a nationwide basis, some may say the problem is not serious," Kelley said, "but how do you tell that to the loved ones of the murder victims, or persons who have been maimed by terrorists?"

Kelley cited instances in which FBI agents and local lawmen have uncovered terrorists "bomb factories" and caches of weapons and explosives.

For example:

In Chicago in November, acting on information initially developed by the police, FBI agents and police dismantled a bomb-making operation linked to the Armed Forces of National Liberation (FALN).

In a search of an apartment, FBI agents and police found 200 sticks of dynamite, 50 pounds of a chemical explosive, propane cylinders and other items often used in explosive devices. They also found FALN literature.

In Richmond, Calif., last February, FBI agents put another bomb factory out of commission, arresting six members of the Emiliano Zapata Unit (EZU) of the New World Liberation Front (NWLF). Agents seized weapons and 150 pounds of explosives, including one finished bomb and three uncompleted bombs. Also found were "communiques" claiming credit for six bombings in the Bay area.

Last March, Puerto Rican police, who had been working with the FBI regarding a series of remote explosives, arrested five members of the Socialist Party of Puerto Rico after they shot at a police car. Those arrested had more than 1,350 pounds of the stolen explosive in their possession.

Information was developed indicating the explosives were destined for the U. S. to scatter during the Bicentennial. More than 1,000 pounds of the stolen iremire has not been recovered.

Kelley said we can say that every time we or local police seize terrorist weapons and explosives, some lives have been saved," Kelley said.

He added, "Terrorism remains a threat to which the FBI has committed a substantial part of its resources. Every American should be prepared to assist law enforcement in discouraging its proliferation in our country."

"Certainly, we don't want terrorist activity to reach the tragic and devastating magnitude it has abroad and in areas of South America."

"It is a tragedy that there have been no known terrorist-related incidents involving nuclear facilities in the United States."

He emphasized that there have been no known terrorist-related incidents involving nuclear facilities in the United States.

"The serious consequences of a successful theft are obvious," Kelley said.

"We are working closely with the Energy Research and Development Administration, the Department of Defense and certain military installations around the country to try to minimize this danger."

Kelley said the FBI is providing assistance to local level police where state statutes have been violated by terrorists.

In addition, the FBI's Bomb Data Program disseminates a variety of technical and statistical information nationwide.

The FBI also provides training to help local police agencies cope with urban guerrilla violence.

During fiscal 1976, the FBI offered its courses for bombing investigators throughout the country. Also, a bomb squad equipment course was conducted. Forty special bulletins dealing with bombing technology and bomb squad management were disseminated throughout the law enforcement community.

Kelley acknowledged the FBI has had difficulty locating terrorist fugitives charged with violent acts.

He cited prolonged, diligent efforts to locate members of the Weather Underground. He said they move freely in an underground culture, aided by prolific production of false identification documents and, on occasion, by idealistic, otherwise law-abiding but misguided elements of society.

The Weather Underground has claimed responsibility for more than 30 bombings since 1970, directed primarily against government and private enterprise.

During the 12 months ending June 30, three fugitive members of the Weather Underground sought by the FBI were taken into custody, but 18 of their comrades are still being sought.

Since last January, FBI agents have arrested three alleged terrorists on the FBI's list of "Ten Most Wanted Fugitives."

They were David Sylvan Fine, Richard Joseph Picariello and Edward Patrick Gullion Jr.

Fine was nabbed in California last January on charges stemming from the bombing at the University of Wisconsin in which one person was killed. He pleaded guilty in August and was sentenced to prison.

Gullion and Picariello were arrested separately in New England last October by FBI agents for interstate transportation of explosives.

They also have been charged with a series of bombings in Massachusetts. Picariello resisted arrest and was subdued by FBI agents, resulting in minor injuries to Picariello and an agent.

Kelley said a case high on the FBI's investigative priority list is the bombing death of former Chilean ambassador Orlando Letelier in Washington, D. C., last September.

The director said savage acts of terrorist violence sometimes have specific targets but are indiscriminate in the death, destruction and injury they cause.

He cited some of the activities of terrorist groups having a variety of "causes":

"Four bombs were set off in Denver, Colo., during 1975, ripping through financial institutions, government offices and private residences. There were injuries, and damage was extensive. The Continental Revolutionary Army claimed responsibility."

"The New World Liberation Front, a Marxist-Leninist group advocating destruction of the United States government and private industry, boasts of 14 bombings in California in 1975 and two bombings in February and March 1976 directed against property of the Hearst family."

A revolutionary group calling itself the Lucio Cabanas Unit of the NWLF claimed responsibility for the bombings last July and September of the South African Consulate in San Francisco.

The NWLF is believed to be an umbrella organization for various groups of terrorists boasting of bombing attacks in California and elsewhere.

Terrorist violence also has been committed by such groups as the Jewish Defense League, the Red Guerrilla Family and groups advocating Croatian nationalism.

"The terrorist act is not only an affront to human decency, it is a potential threat to orderly government and community stability," Kelley said.

"A stranger's death by terrorist violence in a distant city may not impact greatly on our sense of well being, but unquestionably it diminishes freedom as we Americans know and practice it."

"It, therefore, behooves each citizen to be vigilant — and to help law enforcement prevent such violence whenever and wherever he or she has an opportunity to do so."

Police car stolen and recovered

While a Madison police officer was out of his car checking on a vehicle at Third Street and Madison Avenue, someone stole the police car he was driving. The incident took place at 4:10 a.m. Saturday.

At noon Saturday, an unidentified woman called Venice police and reported that the squad car was on the east side of the Illinois Central and Gulf railroad tracks just off Illinois Route 3.

Madison police picked up the auto and it was found undamaged. The keys were missing.

dinner was attended by 150 lodge members.

Stanley Gene Evans, Highland, was presented by Lodge Chief Randy Affolter with the Arrowman of the Year Award for his service to the camping program of the Cahokia Mound Council. Evans is district commissioner of the Kickapoo District (Bond County).

The Order of the Arrow is a national honor camping society within the Scouting program. New recipients of the Vigil Honor, the highest honor bestowed on an Arrow member, were presented to the lodge by John Richard Hooks and Larry Todoroff, co-chairmen of the Vigil Honors Committee.

Members of the lodge receiving the Vigil in ceremonies at Camp Sunnen in September were: Louis Bokka of Collinsville, training chairman for the council; Kevin Wiese of Highland, assistant scoutmaster of Troop 43 of Highland; Dale R. Poiter, scoutmaster of Troop 146 in Granite City, and Chief Affolter, associate adviser of Explorer Post 10-4. Lodge officers for the coming year were introduced by Reginald Mennerick, council camping chairman; Chief Affolter; Robbie Schwarz of Highland, president of Explorer Post 79, vice-chief; Keith Sanders, Post 10-4, lodge secretary; and Darrell Johns, Post 43 in Highland, lodge treasurer.

Chapter adult advisors are Larry Todoroff for the Uniwah (Quad-Cities) chapter, Ben Hartmann of the Illinois (Collinsville-Edwardsville) chapter, and Jim Johns of the Kickapoo (Bond County) chapter.

Committee members planning the program were: Bob Moske, Lyle Tempel, Bill Kefalis, Bill Winter and Jack Taylor.

Terry Toth was the adult advisor for the dinner, and Mike Vencho was chairman of the dinner.

Chief Affolter, in closing, issued a challenge to lodge membership, saying, "Brothers, I hope your year was a good one and that next year will even be better. It is that time of year to make resolutions."

"I hope that everyone plans on putting just a little more time aside for OA. The only way that we, the executive committee, can do anything is if we have the help and support of everyone in the coming year. And speaking of help, Lyle Tempel, this year's pancake chairman, will need a lot of help for the brunch."

"I hope we can do the job you expect, but only with your help will we be able to accomplish this."

Two boys caught in burglary try

Two 15-year-old boys face juvenile court action after they allegedly were caught by police inside a building at 2693 Washington Ave., at 2:05 a.m. today.

Herman Delahoye, who owns the building and who resides in a home at the rear of the building, said he has an intercom system linked between his home and the building and heard the boys breaking into the building. He then telephoned for police.

Patrolman Ed Wiesehan was the first to arrive on the scene.

CLOCK IS STOLEN
A $170 cuckoo clock is the only thing known missing after a burglary between Saturday and 9:05 p.m. Sunday at the home of Chalmers M. Tucker, 2109 Richmond Ave. The rear door from the patio was forced open after unsuccessful attempts to use a glass cutter on the rear storm door and on a window.

FIRE ON INDEPENDENCE

and reported he looked in the building and saw one youth crouched down by the front door. As the officer stopped at the front door, he saw the youth move toward the rear of the building.

Wiesehan ordered the youth to stop and then to walk back to the front door and unlock it. The youth complied and Wiesehan entered, arrested the boy and asked if there was anyone else in the building.

The boy said there was another and called for his companion to come out. The companion then surrendered to Wiesehan before other police arrived at the scene.

Officers alleged one juvenile had a hammer in his rear pocket. A window pane in a northeast window was broken and the window was then unlocked and opened to gain entry.

There were signs a desk had been searched and a duffel bag was found in the building containing papers belonging to Delahoye and to Dale C. Rea, assistant to the superintendent of the Granite City School District, officers said.

Pickup overturns

A northbound pickup truck operated by Timothy A. Stafford, 18, of 2720 Angela Drive, struck the center median on Madison Avenue, near Nameoki Road, turned over and came to rest on its top at 10:55 p.m. Saturday.

Police charged the operator with reckless driving. The report did not indicate whether Stafford or his two passengers sustained injuries.

CAB FARE DISPUTE

Eddie Abney, 45, of 1303 Twenty-First St., was charged with theft and disorderly conduct at 9 p.m. Friday at the rear of the City Hall in Granite City, when he reportedly refused to pay a $10.60 fare to the cab driver, Richard Caudill of the Checker Cab Co. Abney paid the fare the following day, the report stated.

GENERATOR BURNS

Granite City firemen were called to the A. O. Smith Corp. automotive frame plant on Route 3 at 12:40 a.m. Saturday for a fire in a large generator, but plant employees had extinguished the fire by the time firemen arrived. No estimate of the damage was given.

Burglar enters through window

Paul Anders, 2200 Adams St., Apt. 3, reported at 9:45 p.m. Saturday, several items taken from his home by a burglar who pushed out a plexiglass window from its frame to gain entry.

Missing were a cassette tapeplayer, valued at $60; an AM-FM radio, $25; tool box and assorted tools, $100; two flashlights, $10; cheese and potatoes, $7; two glass candles, $7 and a transistor radio, no value listed.

—Be sure the fireplace damper is closed except when the fire is going.

—Repair leaky faucets, especially hot water faucets, as quickly as possible.

—Be sure the dishwasher is full, but not overloaded, before you turn it on. The average dishwasher uses 14 gallons of hot water a load.

—Scrape dishes, but do not rinse them before loading them into the washer. If rinsing is necessary, use cold water.

—Let your dishes air dry. After the final rinse, turn off the control knob and prop the door open.

—You can reduce energy consumption in cooking by using pans that cover the heating element so that more heat enters the pot and less is lost to the surrounding air.

—Wash clothes in warm or cold water, and rinse in cold. Use hot water only if absolutely necessary.

—Dry your clothes in consecutive loads. Once the dryer is warm, it cuts down on initial energy consumption.

—Keep the lint screen in the dryer clean by removing lint after each load. Clothes take longer to dry if the screen is clogged with lint.

election, and Baucum has announced he will withdraw from politics. Patterson also is expected to file for re-election.

Madison voters also are to elect a mayor, clerk and treasurer and one alderman in each of the city's five wards. Aldermanic terms expiring this year, whose offices will be open to elections, are Don Reeves, First Ward; Richard Kisser, Second Ward; Ray Kozielek, Third Ward; Christ Costoff, Fourth Ward, and Booker Walton, Fifth Ward.

Also expiring are the terms of Mayor Mike Saasy, City Clerk John Belciff and City Treasurer Albert Hoskstra. None of these officials have indicated their election plans thus far.

In Pontoon Beach, only three members of the seven-man board of trustees will be elected. Candidates will compete for the terms now expiring of Donald C. Rea, Raymond Gaudette Jr. and Paul Bennett. Voters of Pontoon Beach elect their mayor and village clerk in "off-year" elections because the village was established in 1963 which establishes the date for different four-year periods.

In the park district elections, Venice will elect three members, two to regular six-year terms, and one to fill the remaining four years of an unexpired term now filled by appointment.

Regular terms to be filled in this year's election are those of Clifford Cayner and Alfred Dale Crawford. The unexpired four-year term subject to election is that now filled by Mrs. Mary Bauder. She was appointed to the term of John Mitchell, former Park Board president, who retired.

Other members of the Venice Park Board who continue to serve are Peter Ponce and Mrs. Valeta Bauder.

In the Granite City Park Board election, the terms of Barry Loman and Henry Gabriel will be subject to balloting this year. Other board members are George H. Sykes, Bob Patrick and Jake Hinters.

Childrens play at GCHS South

A children's play, "The Golden Grotto or Bracko the Prince Frog," will be presented Tuesday and Wednesday at 8 p.m. by the Granite City High School South Oral Interpretation I class in the school auditorium.

Children through the sixth grade will be admitted free and adults will be charged 50 cents. The play is under the direction of Mrs. Ruth Klaus.

The story is a legend turned upside down in a comedy for all ages. A magic grotto under a castle provides the setting for the play.

Through the hilariously incompetent spell of a bumbling magician, a happy frog is transformed into a shy prince with a head cold.

The witless wizard, a worrier miser and a kindly dragon join the adventure which ends with a surprise series of magical transformations and a happy ending for all.

Feed grain allotment

A 1977 national feed grain allotment of 89 million acres has been announced by the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA). This figure is unchanged from 1976, Lee Rogers, Madison County director of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, reports.

The national allotment represents the harvested acreage that will produce the quantity of corn, sorghum and barley USDA estimates the U.S. will use domestically and for export during the 1977-78 marketing year.

The national allotment does not represent a limit on the amount of feed grain that may be planted.

It is used solely as a basis for making payments to producers should the market price fall below the established target prices or should growers qualify for disaster payments, Rogers adds.

In 1976, producers, responding to the marketplace rather than the allotment, planted 112 million acres of corn, sorghum and barley.

USDA believes that in 1977 producers will again study prices and demand in planning their farming operations and, therefore, the national allotment and actual acres planted may not coincide.

The department will not make deficiency payments on 1976-crop wheat and barley.

Current legislation provides that deficiency payments will be made to producers when the national weighted average price received by farmers for the first five months of the marketing year (June-October for wheat and barley) is less than the established target price for these crops.

The national weighted average price received by farmers for the first five months of the 1976 marketing year was $3.08 per bushel for wheat and $2.41 per bushel for barley. These exceed the target prices of $2.20 and $1.28 for wheat and barley, respectively.

Jennison-Wright workers honored

Fifteen employees of The Jennison-Wright Corporation have received service awards, Gus Carver, general manager of the firm, announced last week.

Those honored were: Marshall McElroy, 2940 Warren, 40 years; Lloyd Buckingham, 2810 Denver, 35 years; Charles Pulley, 2033 Sherman, 25 years; Norbert Hartman, Florissant, Mo., 25 years; Hubert Richmond, 2127 Cleveland, 25 years.

Francis Gordon, 4509 Maryville Road, 25 years; Clarence Evans, 907 Webster, Madison, 25 years; Roland Lashley, St. Louis, 25 years; Jacqueline Ishum, 2301 Independence Drive, 20 years; James Martin, 3129 Lakeview Drive, 20 years; J. T. Clifton, 2716 Harding, 20 years; Will Young, St. Louis, 15 years; Carl Courtwright, 20 Tulip Drive, 15 years; Cletus Karban, Collinsville, 5 years, and Johnnie Brown, Edwardsville, 5 years.

"This makes a total of 325 years of service at Jennison-Wright Corporation for these 15 employees," Carver noted.

Seek zoning for new restaurant

A request for commercial zoning at 3516 Nameoki Road for construction of an Arthur Treacher's Fish and Chips Restaurant will be considered during the regular meeting of the Granite City Plan Commission at 1:15 p.m. Thursday, Jan. 13, at the city offices, 2301 Adams St.

The property presently is zoned R-2 for single-family residential use and a C-1 commercial classification is being requested.

The plan commission also is to consider a request from John T. Thompson for C-1 zoning at 1627 Maple St., to operate a small business to sharpen hand tools and repair small motors. The property presently is zoned R-4 for residential use.

The plan commission meetings are public and persons having comments or objections will be given an opportunity to address the commission prior to its making a recommendation.

The plan commission recommendations then are considered by the Granite City Council which has final authority to approve or deny zoning requests.

City clerk workshops

The State Board of Elections, in cooperation with the Illinois Municipal League, will conduct a series of election workshops throughout the state in January for municipal clerks. It was announced by Franklin J. Landing Jr., chairman of the state board.

One will be at the Alton City Hall council chambers, 101 E. 3rd St., from 10 a.m. to noon Friday, Jan. 14.

Sixteen workshops have been scheduled in preparation for primary elections to be held by some Illinois municipalities in February, followed by general elections to be held in April. State Board of Elections staff members will lead the workshops including duties and responsibilities.

The workshops are open to municipal clerks and interested citizens.

GED classes scheduled

Persons in the Quad-City area wishing to work for a General Educational Development (GED) certificate may do so beginning Wednesday and Thursday.

The tuition-free program, taught by certified teachers, provides academic tutoring for adults wishing to earn the high school equivalency certificate.

On Wednesday, classes will be held from noon until 3 p.m. at the Nameoki United Presbyterian Church, 1700 Penton Road.

On Thursday there will be two different classes. One from noon until 3 p.m. at Grace Baptist Church, 2600 Edwards St., and from 4:30 p.m. until 7:30 p.m. at the Niedringhaus United Methodist Church, 20th Street and Delmar Avenue.

Two corporation charters issued

Foreign corporation charters have been issued by the state of Illinois to Avatar Enterprises, Inc., and Southwestern Management, Inc., it was announced by Secretary of State Michael J. Howlett.

Both charters list Gary Fears, 5 Barbara Court, Arlington Heights, as charterer and president and both have a stated capital of $1,000.

Both corporations are "to engage in the business of general consulting, business management and deal in real estate."

Correspondent for both corporations is Dwight Taylor, attorney, 1802 Vandalia St., Collinsville.

Dates Set for Hearing Aid Service Center

Granite City — Every Wednesday has been designated as hearing aid service days in the Granite City area.

A special Beltone Hearing Aid Service Center will be held at 1304 Niedringhaus. Chuck Miles, a factory-trained Beltone Hearing Aid Specialist, will be there from 10:00 to 12 Noon and 3:30 to 5:15 p.m. to conduct free electronic hearing tests and assist with all hearing needs.

All hearing aids brought to the Center will be cleaned and checked for trouble spots. This is offered as a free, on-the-spot service and is not limited to Beltone users.

Anyone unable to come to the Beltone Hearing Aid Service, Sketty's Jewelry & Card Shop, 1304 Niedringhaus between 10:00-12:00 Noon and 3:30-5:15 P.M. is invited to phone 876-6414 for a free home appointment.

MR. AND MRS. ROGER MASSEY whose wedding was solemnized at Holy Cross Lutheran Church, Collinsville. The bride is the former Miss Karen J. Kebbel, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Kebbel, 710 Lillian, Collinsville, and Mrs. Jean Wallace of Granite City.

Miss Karen Kebbel and Roger Massey are wed

Miss Karen J. Kebbel, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Kebbel, 710 Lillian, Collinsville, and Mrs. Jean Wallace of Granite City and Roger K. Massey, exchanged wedding vows in a candlelight ceremony on Dec. 12 at Holy Cross Lutheran Church, Collinsville.

Parents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Massey, reside at 1807 North 40th St., Washington Park.

Burning tapers in hurricane lamp aisle standards festooned with white satin bows and Christmas decorations created with green pine, red ornaments and three red candles adorned the altar with white candles in branched candelabras on each side, provided the setting for the double ring ceremony performed at 4 p.m. by the Rev. John G. Koch.

Organist Debbie Vette accompanied the soloist, Connie Koch. Nuptial selections included "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring," "Gift of Love," "Jesus Shepherd, Be Thou Near Me," "Wedding Song" and "Hallelujah Chorus."

Escorted down the white carpeted aisle and given in marriage by her father, the former Miss Kebbel, selected a full length bridal satin gown designed with an Empire waistline and fitted bodice featuring a high neckline and sheer oval yoke lavishly appliqued with Chantilly lace motifs.

The bouffant sleeves were cuffed with wide bands of lace and the semi-full skirt and train were accented with matching lace appliques.

She wore a lace bordered veil of bridal illusion and carried a love-lace style bouquet of white daisies, baby carnations, some tipped in royal blue and others in burgundy hues, interspersed with baby's breath tied with white satin ribbons and centered with a cluster of lace and ribbons.

Maid of honor Miss Deirdre Kebbel and bridesmaid Miss Leticia Kebbel, both sisters of the bride, wore identical royal blue polyester knit halter style gowns featuring velvet collar lapels which enhanced the long sleeved jackets in matching fabric, and cuffed with velvet.

Each attendant held a bouquet similar to the bridal arrangement in white daisies and mini carnations tipped royal blue with sprigs of baby's breath and centered with lace and satin ribbon.

James Zagorski attended the groom as best man. Gregory Piquard served as groomsman and Gary and Dennis Kebbel, brothers of the bride, were the ushers and candlelighters.

After the service a reception was held at the American Legion Hall in Collinsville.

Mrs. Kebbel was attired in a formal length burgundy double knit polyester dress worn with a matching jacket trimmed around the collar and peplum with a burgundy fur. She wore a corsage of pink carnations.

Mrs. Wallace chose a green Qiana street length dress created with long tapered sleeves, a V-neckline and shirred midriff to accent the full skirt. Her corsage was made up with white carnations tipped green.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Massey, appeared in a floor length princess style blue gown fashioned with a high neckline and long sleeves trimmed with a decorative braid. She wore a white-carnation corsage tipped blue.

A 1976 graduate of Collinsville High School, the bride attended Belleville Area College and is presently employed at St. Louis Union Trust Co.

The groom graduated from Beran Christian High School in 1976 and is working at Howard Johnson's in Collinsville.

The newly married couple are residing in Collinsville.

Warriors win holiday tourney; 4 champion wrestlers from GC

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD Mon., Jan. 3, 1977 Page 8

UNDEFEATED HEAVYWEIGHT. GCHS South's Mark Naglich keeps his 1976-77 unbeaten record intact Thursday night by claiming first place in the 16th annual Granite City holiday wrestling tournament. Naglich entered the meet with a 15-0 mark and won five straight bouts in the tournament, including a victory over second-place matman Keith Brumley of Belleville East (at left).

While the weather outside of the Granite City Memorial Gymnasium was below zero, Coach William "Bill" Schmitt's wrestling Warriors were inside creating heat for their opponents enroute to claiming the team championship of the 16th annual Granite City holiday tournament, pulling away from the other 15 teams with 181.5 points Thursday night.

The win marked Granite City's eighth title in the history of the meet, which began in 1961 with Granite City taking top honors and again the next year. Granite City took first place in 1964 and 1965 and repeated as champion again in 1968.

The Warriors failed to win again until 1973 as South High but took the top spot again in 1974. Riverview Gardens won in 1975.

The Steelers of GCHS North saw possible points evaporate on the opening day when Keith Whelan suffered a broken hand which prevented him from competing further. North finished in ninth place in the tourney with 97 points.

Cahokia's Comanches, in contention for the title throughout the two-day meet, took runnerup honors with 148.5 points.

Roxana was third with 135 points, Belleville East fourth with 127.5 and Normandy of Missouri fifth with 111.5.

GCHS South held only a 5 1/2-point lead over Cahokia going into the second day of the meet, but racked up 107 additional points to Cahokia's 69.

Hazelwood Central scored 106.5 points, Bloomington 112.5, Pekin 99.5, GCHS North 97, Riverview Gardens 95.5, McCluer North 82, Decatur 47, Riteour 36, Wood River 30, East St. Louis Lincoln 27.5 and Jacksonville 20.

Warrior wrestlers claimed individual honors in three weight classes: Jim Carmody at 145, Kevin Wilson at 185 and Mark Naglich, heavyweight.

GCHS North had one weight class champion—Kris Whelan at 105 pounds.

Placing in order in each weight class were:

98 pounds — Mike Welch (McCluer North), Don Millello (Roxana), Eugene Allen (Normandy).

105 — Kris Whelan (GCHS North), Fred Mariani (Bloomington), Wally DeShon (GCHS South).

112 — Les Pohle (Cahokia), Barry Forshee (GC South), John Dillick (Riverview).

119 — Mike Lorentzen (Cahokia), Rocky Sieg (Riverview), Les Johnson (Bloomington).

126 — Steve Koch (Belleville East), Mitch Voorhees (Roxana), Tim Stassi (Wood River).

132 — Dan Allen (Pekin), Clay Bruggeman (Roxana), Cliff Welch (McCluer).

138 — Glen Eaton (Roxana), Darrell Hasty (GC South), Mike McLeod (Pekin).

145 — Carmody (GC South), Stan Dickerson (Belleville East), Nate Keeling (Hazelwood Central).

155 — Dale Whitehouse (Riverview), Bill Spencer (Roxana), Mike Forshee (GC South).

167 — Mike Galucia (Hazelwood Central), Mark Widel (GC North), Herman Jackson (Cahokia).

185 — Wilson (GC South), Kevin Hafflinger (Pekin), Elmer Thornton (Normandy).

Heavyweight — Naglich (GC South), Keith Brumley (Belleville East), and Mark Feldman (Cahokia).

Whelan of North and Naglich of South had earned their individual honors by the conclusion of the fifth round of competition, while two other local matmen had to compete in Thursday evening's championship bouts to decide weight class winners.

Warrior Carmody won at 145 with a 4-0 decision over Hazelwood Central's Nate Keeling, and Warrior Wilson won at 185 with a 39-second pin of Normandy's Elmer Thornton.

North's Tracy Patton lost his bid for third place at 112 Thursday night in losing 1-4, and North's Matt McCullough also had to settle for third place at 126, losing that night 9-0 to Hazelwood Central's Roger Byrd.

Thursday afternoon's action saw Kevin Shemwell (GC North) lose 10-2, Kris Whelan (North) win 17-4, DeShon (South) win 8-7, Barry Forshee (South) lose 17-9 in overtime, Patton (North) win 10-6, Randy Basore (South) lose 17-10, McCullough win 10-4 over Sam Perkins (South), Dave Gaines (South) lose 5-4 in overtime.

And the results also saw Hasty (South) lose 4-2, Carmody (South) win 5-2, Ray Stuart (North) lose 6-4, Mike Forshee (South) win by forfeit over Steve Hartline (North), Widel (North) lose 7-6, Wilson win 8-4, Naglich win 14-9, and Jim Shemwell (North) lose 9-8 and Widel win 4-1.

wrestling tournament. At left, Paul Mariani of Bloomington, who placed second, shows his joy, along with third-place matman Wally DeShon (right) of GCHS South.

North's Tracy Patton lost his bid for third place at 112 Thursday night in losing 1-4, and North's Matt McCullough also had to settle for third place at 126, losing that night 9-0 to Hazelwood Central's Roger Byrd.

Thursday afternoon's action saw Kevin Shemwell (GC North) lose 10-2, Kris Whelan (North) win 17-4, DeShon (South) win 8-7, Barry Forshee (South) lose 17-9 in overtime, Patton (North) win 10-6, Randy Basore (South) lose 17-10, McCullough win 10-4 over Sam Perkins (South), Dave Gaines (South) lose 5-4 in overtime.

And the results also saw Hasty (South) lose 4-2, Carmody (South) win 5-2, Ray Stuart (North) lose 6-4, Mike Forshee (South) win by forfeit over Steve Hartline (North), Widel (North) lose 7-6, Wilson win 8-4, Naglich win 14-9, and Jim Shemwell (North) lose 9-8 and Widel win 4-1.

SERIOUS BUSINESS. Hazelwood Central's Nate Keeling (left) and GCHS South's Jim Carmody eye each other carefully in a 145-pound championship wrestling bout Thursday night, won by Carmody on a 4-0 decision. Carmody now has 20 wins against no losses for the season.

South High to host wrestling sectional

A total of 390 Downstate, suburban and Chicago non-public league schools have entered teams in the 40th annual Illinois High School Association (IHSA) two-class boys' state wrestling tournament series, which begins at the District level the weekend of Feb. 10-12.

Granite City (South) will be the scene of sectional tournament competition between representatives of districts meets at Cahokia, Edwardsville, Harrisburg, and Springfield (Langhiser).

Assignment of schools to districts and correlated sectionals has been announced by IHSA Executive Secretary Harry Fitzhugh.

A total of 151 schools with enrollments of 750 or less will compete in the fourth Class A series, while a total of 239 schools with enrollments of 751 or more will compete in the fourth Class AA series.

In addition, the Chicago Public League will conduct a qualifying tournament for individual berths in the Class A state final tournament.

A total of 381 schools competed in 1975, and 395 in 1976.

All but one of the 16 Class A districts will begin the evening of Friday, Feb. 11, and all will conclude with two sessions

Saturday, Feb. 12. The Eureka District will begin Feb. 10. All 28 Class AA districts will start the evening of Feb. 11 and will conclude with a pair of sessions Feb. 12.

First-place and second-place finishers in each weight class at the districtals advance to the sectional level, scheduled for the weekend of Feb. 18-19 at four Class A sites — Mt. Olive, Fort Byron (Riverdale), Tolono (Unity) and Yorkville — and at seven AA sites — Barrington, Downers Grove (South), Granite City (South), Normal (Community), Northlake (West Leyden), Riverside (R-Brookfield) and Rock Island (High School).

All sectionals will begin with one session the evening of Friday, Feb. 18, and will conclude with a pair of sessions Saturday, Feb. 19.

In both classes, the top two finishers in each weight class will advance from the sectional to the state final tournament, scheduled the weekend of Feb. 25-26 at the Assembly Hall in Champaign.

In addition, the top two finishers in each weight class in the Chicago Public League qualifying tournament advance to the Class AA state final.

The state A and AA tournaments will be conducted

Trojans stand tall in Mater Dei meet top Pioneers for title

RANDALL JONES Most Valuable Player

RODNEY DAVIS All tournament team

Madison High School's Trojan cagers were undefeated in the 16th annual Mater Dei holiday tournament at Breese, winning four contests, including Thursday night's 47-41 title game triumph over the East St. Louis Assumption Pioneers.

Captain Larry Graham's team, now with a 10-1 record for the 1976-77 season, returned to the tournament after an absence since 1968 after having posted back-to-back championships in 1966 and 1967.

Assumption, winner in 1968 and 1969, entered the tourney as an unseeded team. After sidelining top-seeded Mascoutah 46-45, the Pioneers beat Greenville 76-65 and then Okawville 54-41 to advance into the championship game.

Madison beat Highland 74-62, undefeated Nashville 77-75 and host Mater Dei 82-52 to meet the Pioneers.

The Trojans led 12-11, 22-21 and 34-30 at the quarters and then outscored Assumption 13-11 in the final period of the close title contest.

Both teams experienced difficulty in connecting with the basket. Madison made 19 field goals of 40 attempts, and Assumption 17 of 40.

From the foul line, Madison made nine of 13 tosses and Assumption seven of 18. MHS had the most turnovers, 16-14, but controlled the boards, 32-21.

Each squad tallied five field goals in the opening period. Madison made five baskets in the second quarter and Assumption three, but the Pioneers kept the score close with the help of four free throws.

Assumption's scoring power was reduced with one second left in the third quarter when Pioneer Eric Wright went to the bench with five fouls called against him and with a total of 12 points.

Senior Randall Jones, who pulled down 13 rebounds, topped Madison's scoring with 17 points.

Rodney Davis, who recovered 10 rebounds, scored 14 points, including four charity tosses. Ron Williams and Anthony King each garnered six points and Rodney Cochrell, four.

Okawville took third place in the tourney Thursday evening with a 70-58 win over Breese Mater Dei, and Nashville claimed fifth place by beating Central of Breese 85-70 Thursday afternoon.

Consolation honors went to Mascoutah on a 75-45 win over Taylorville.

The tournament's most valuable player award went to Madison's Randall Jones, who scored in double figures in each game while tallying 85 of Madison's four-game total of 223 points.

Trejan Senior Rodney Davis scored 66 points and was named to the all-tournament team, which also included Wright of Assumption, Jeff Rennebarge of Okawville and Roger Steig of Nashville.

Recognized as the team to set a new tournament record of most points accumulated in four games was Nashville with 342 points. The previous high of 332 points was set by Madison in 1966.

Tennis instruction plans are being made

Tri-City Area YMCA Program Director Don Rains has announced tentative plans for a five-week tennis program for members and non-members, with former professional player Earl H. Buchholz Sr. serving as instructor.

Buchholz headed a similar instructional program here in 1959, sponsored by the Granite City Optimist Club; 500 local youths participated. Rains said dates on which each Saturday's half-hour sessions will be conducted have not yet been determined. Members will be charged $10 for the course and non-members $20.

Buchholz has participated in the sport either as a player or instructor for the past 41 years and has instructed two of his sons who went on to become tennis champions and earn national recognition. Cliff Buchholz defeated Arthur Ashe in the semifinals of the national juniors and again on the world junior championship team. Cliff and Chuck Pasarelli represented the United States and won the world junior championship. Cliff Buchholz also defeated Manuel Santana the year Santana was considered the world's top player.

Ice hockey players are back from holiday tour

Three participating teams of the Granite City Amateur Ice Hockey Association returned home Friday after competing in a week-long holiday tournament at Houston, Texas. The teams from the United States and Canada.

The local teams are C.D. Peters Construction, P4S Amusement and Mark Five.

Lebanon victor at Freeburg

Lebanon High School's basketball Greyhounds ended three straight years of taking a "back seat" to the Venice Red Devils in the annual Freeburg-Columbia holiday tournament, defeating Marissa 76-65 Thursday night to claim the tournament championship.

The Greyhounds had placed second in three holiday tournaments in a row behind Venice, but last week Lebanon opened with a 65-61 win over Steeleville and then beat Westlin of Trenton 74-64 and Livingston 60-51 to advance into the title contest.

Venice, winner of nine of the holiday tournaments, was eliminated from competition with a consolation bracket quarterfinal loss.

Enter mobile home ransack, vandalize

The mobile home of Glen Warren, 2234 Alexander St., was totally ransacked and vandalized prior to 8:30 a.m. Sunday when a report was made. The home was extensively damaged. Mirrors were smashed and the contents of drawers and most food supplies were dumped onto the floors. Due to condition of the premises, the occupant was unable to determine what was taken. Entry was gained by breaking a glass window in the door.

Police arrest wanted man

William D. "Stretch" McDaniel, 30, who was being sought on a burglary (felony) warrant issued by the Jefferson County (Mo.) sheriff's office, was arrested without incident by Granite City and Madison police officers at a residence in the 1900 block of Edwardsville Road, Madison, at 8 p.m. Saturday.

A young woman with McDaniel was brought in for questioning and later released without being charged. McDaniel is being held pending extradition to Missouri.

Benefits up, but tax forms more complex

Federal income tax forms currently being mailed are more complicated but offer new benefits, including a Line 37 general tax credit providing less tax than through last year's $30 flat credit for each personal exemption.

Those who have to pay someone to care for a child under age 15 or for a dependent incapable of self-care — so that the taxpayer can work — may now claim part of that cost as a tax credit instead of as a deduction. IRS Form 2441 is necessary for this credit of up to $400 for the first dependent.

A separate schedule is included in the Internal Revenue Service package to increase the tax break for those 65 or older, or persons under 65 who have retired under a governmental retirement system.

A choice still is afforded between the 100A short form used by certain taxpayers not itemizing their deductions and the 1040 long form.

Those choosing the short form, instead of using a table to automatically find their deduction and exemptions, now will have to utilize arithmetic to arrive at their taxable income.

Unchanged is the penalty for late payment — up to 25 per cent of the unpaid amount, and seven per cent interest.

Coal sulfur removal at power plant abandoned

Asked by Illinois Power Co. to re-evaluate the "Cat-Ox" experimental air pollution control system at its Wood River electric generating plant, the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency has concluded that the test should be abandoned due to high cost and frequent malfunctions, including acid leaks.

The EPA also noted that low-sulfur coal now is being used at the power plant.

The Monsanto Enviro-Chem Systems process had been intended to utilize the more abundant and less expensive high-sulfur coal, taking sulfur dioxide out of smokestack emissions and converting the gas to sulfuric acid that could be sold.

Illinois Power agreed to try the system but shut it down in April 1975 after more than $8 million had been spent. The utility asked the federal agency to determine whether further efforts were justified.

The EPA said all parties feel that "despite the failure to demonstrate either feasibility or infusibility at Wood River, further large expenditure of funds cannot be justified, and the demonstration project must be discontinued."

Other types of sulfur dioxide control methods currently are being tested elsewhere.

Missing car found on Old Alton Road

A 1975 LeMans reported stolen from in front of the home of James Stuart, 3001 E. 23rd St., at 2:25 p.m. Friday, was found in a ditch on Old Alton Road by Madison County sheriff's deputies. The vehicle was not drivable and was towed to a garage.

A Wood River motorist later reported picking up four youths in the vicinity of the disabled car and giving them a ride along Old Alton Road toward Granite City. Three of the youths were contacted by police.

Stuart informed officers that a fourth youth told him that he had taken the auto, using a key left by the owner on the kitchen table.

Those involved were to report this morning with their parents to police headquarters.

Clean environment discourages food poisoning in home

By JANETTE MUELLER
Madison County Extension
Adviser, Home Economics

Do you as a consumer handle meat products with as much regard for cleanliness and sanitation as the United States Department of Agriculture requires of the food industry? Unfortunately, a recent government food care survey indicates that many homemakers rely almost entirely on government inspection of fresh meat and poultry for product safety.

This attitude overlooks the fact that food poisoning bacteria are always present in the environment and the human body.

According to meat inspectors with USDA's Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service, it takes a clean environment—in meat plants as well as in the home—to protect clean and wholesome meat products.

Ordinary sanitation practices used conscientiously when handling food will reduce bacterial contamination and prevent many foodborne diseases.

Food care rules are simple. Keep hot foods HOT. Keep cold foods COLD. Keep all food CLEAN.

First, wash away with soap and hot water as many of the harmful bacteria as possible from food, utensils and food contact surfaces.

Then kill or stop the growth of those remaining bacteria by controlling the temperatures at which food is prepared, stored and served.

Avoid allowing food to remain at temperatures where bacteria grow and multiply—40 degrees to 140 degrees F. And remember, do not handle food if you have infected cuts or sores on your hands.

Single copies of food safety publications containing tips on purchasing, handling, cooking and storing meat, and poultry products are available to the general public upon request.

Interested persons may write to USDA—APHIS, Midwest Information, 356 S. Clark St., Room 936, Chicago, Ill. 60605.

60th anniversary of Rev. and Mrs. Filby

The Rev. and Mrs. Leroy Filby, 2320 Winters Drive, celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary at a party given by their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Earl (Mildred) Zimmer in their home in Staunton, last week.

Rev. Filby and his wife, the former Jewel Helton, were married on Dec. 23, 1916, in Edwardsville and have resided in Granite City since their marriage.

Both are members of the First Assembly of God Church, the Anchorage Senior Club and the Jolly 60's at Grace Baptist Church.

Rev. Filby served as minister with the Assemblies of God Association until his retirement in 1967.

The honorees also have five grandchildren, David Lee and Paul Zimmer, Mrs. Connie Parks, Mrs. Karen Rising and Mrs. Kathy Burgess and seven great-grandchildren.

Protestant Welfare install officers

An installation of officers who will serve with the Protestant Welfare Association, Inc. for the forthcoming year was conducted Tuesday night by the Rev. Robert Kettelhut, during a meeting held at St. Peter Evangelical United Church of Christ.

The 1976-77 corps of officers include Kenneth Whittington, president; Raymond Vaughn, vice-president; Orville Ganz, treasurer and Mrs. Irma Taylor, secretary.

Whittington conducted the business meeting and reports were given by the treasurer and secretary. Mrs. Marie Whittle, office secretary, reported there were 45 cases involving 132 persons assisted during November.

Total cost for food, utilities and lodging amounted to $663 and 14 orders of clothing and shoes totaled $126 with an additional $25 for bed linen and a rocker was also donated to needy residents, according to Mrs. Whittle.

During the meeting Mrs. Minnie Dillard presented Mrs. Whittle with a gift from the organization as she is retiring. The president said the next meeting on Jan. 18 will be held at Concordia Lutheran Church, 2301 Grand Ave.

East Bank Players present yule skit

The East Bank Players performed a skit entitled, "Night Before Christmas" at the annual Christmas party hosted by the Mexican Honorary Commission at the organization's hall, 1801 Spruce St., last week.

A Christmas, "posada" reenacting the journey of Mary and Joseph to Bethlehem was also presented with the members joining in the carols singing both in Spanish and English. Another segment of the entertainment featured Jim Segobiano and Connie Becerra dancing several Mexican dances.

Several films were shown, followed by a visit from Santa Claus who gave presents and candy to all the children.

Josephine Mendez, club Chaplain, offered prayer prior to the buffet dinner attended by 200 members and guests.

Robert Robles, the retiring president, extended season greetings to everyone and announced the club will hold a New Year's dance which is open to the public.

The annual scholarship dance held in memory of the late Joe Gonzales is planned for March 19, the president added.

Rose Grim and Mary Martinez served as hostesses for the holiday party which concluded with the breaking of the pinata.

Bethel 43 plans candy sale

Miss Kim Rapp officiated at the first meeting of her term as queen of Bethel 43, Order of Job's Daughters, last week, followed by a Christmas party for the members held in the dining room at the Masonic Temple.

Guardian Mrs. Rebecca Slate and associate Guardian Martin Love opened the session.

Escorted and introduced were three past honored queens, Charlotte Rapp, Leslie Houser and Becky Burke. Miss Burke is the junior past honored queen and was the guest of honor for the evening. She received her past queens' jewel from Miss Rapp, on behalf of the Bethel.

Congratulations were extended to Laura Gant on earning the "Job of the Term" award and the runner-up candidates Kendra Rapp, Gena

Fox, Melissa Travis and Mary Lou Metcalf were also introduced.

The queen announced 11 members participated in singing carols at Anchorage followed by visiting a living manger scene at Crossroads Plaza on Dec. 17. They were served hot chocolate at Macdonalds after the trip.

Fifteen members formed the living cross at the installation of Masonic Lodge 877 AF&AM on Dec. 18 and the following evening there were 31 members and parents who attended the Bach Society Christmas Concert at Powell Hall, St. Louis.

Plans were finalized for the girls to conclude a candy sale on Jan. 14 at all the area banks and Jan. 15 at various shopping centers.

The next meeting will convene at 7 p.m. on Jan. 11 at the Masonic Temple.

A large decorated Christmas tree was centered among triangle tables in the dining room for the social party which included a gift exchange and visit from Santa Claus, after the meeting.

Beta Nu holds initiation

The Beta Nu Chapter of Phi Tau Omega Sorority held its Christmas Party and solemn initiation ceremony at Tony's Restaurant, Granite City last week. The President, Norma Hillmer and Vice-President Dorothy Bergrath were co-chairmen of the event.

Mrs. Margaret Noma was given the oath of membership in an impressive candlelight ceremony. Mrs. Debra Miskelley, the other new member, was unable to attend, and will be initiated at the January meeting.

Tables were decorated in the winter wonderland theme with silver and white topiary trees as centerpiece holding ornament favors. Also decorating the tables were Santa Claus favors identical to those made by members and given to patients at the Madison County Nursing Home in Edwardsville the Wednesday before Christmas.

Others attending the party were, Mrs. Frances Cowley and Mrs. Judy Modrak of Venice; Mrs. Eunice Whitsell; Mrs. Sally Pasley; Mrs. Jeanne Dorner; and Mrs. Carol Klug of Granite City; and Mrs. Peggy Hinson, Mrs. Jane Modrak, and Miss Dorothy Hinson of Madison.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Lorentz mark 40th anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Lorentz of Bunker Hill, celebrated their 40th wedding anniversary at an open house party given by their daughter, Mrs. Barb Abick, in her home, 2807 East 24th St., last week.

The couple lived in Granite City for 56 years before moving to a country home in Bunker Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. Lorentz were married on Dec. 24, 1936, in Granite City. She is the former Gerie Woodson, born in Stewart County, Tenn.

Mr. Lorentz, born in St. Charles, Mo., retired from the Terminal Railroad after working 33 years. Mr. and Mrs. Lorentz are members of the First Assembly of God Church in Cottage Hills, Ill. and spent most of their time traveling and attending gospel singing.

The couple also has a son, Robert Lorentz of Arnold, Mo. and four granddaughters. Out-of-town relatives and guests included Mr. and Mrs. John Nulle, Mr. and Mrs. Marlin Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Martin and daughter, Marinda, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Phillips, and Mrs. Erna Lorentz.

Lawmakers hear taxpayers' voice

SPRINGFIELD — That much discussed "tax revolt" has indeed become a reality.

That was the feeling beneath the Statehouse Dome in the wake of the Illinois House rejection of the controversial bill for raising taxes for legislators and state officials.

In the past when the lawmakers have raised their own pay and that of other officials there has been a general hue and cry.

But it never seemed to last very long and few legislators took it too seriously. The pay hikes were usually voted far in advance of the next election — like the latest effort — and voters forgot about them by then.

There is no historical record of any Illinois legislator ever having been defeated because he voted himself a pay raise.

But these are changing times and it is apparent that many a lawmaker is no longer sure that his constituents have short memories.

Actually, a fairly good case for higher pay for lawmakers was made by sponsors of the legislation and House Speaker William Redmond.

Despite occasional voiced misgivings the Illinois legislature has become virtually a fulltime operation. No one really takes seriously the possibility that it might someday revert to biennial sessions.

Nor does it appear likely that sessions in even-numbered years can ever be confined to budgetary and fiscal matters as many have hoped.

Any person elected to the Illinois legislature can expect to spend a good deal of his time in Springfield. Those who insist that persons capable of doing a good job of making the state's laws cannot be had at $20,000-a-year may well have a point.

For comparative purposes it should be noted that according to statistics in the latest volume of the Book of the States prepared by the Council of State Governments, only two states currently pay their legislators more than does Illinois.

They are New York at $47,000 for two years of work and California, $46,484. Illinois legislators' pay amounts to $40,000 over a two-year period.

Two-year payments by other major states include Michigan $35,000, Ohio $35,000, Pennsylvania $31,200, and Texas $14,000.

Regardless of the merits of any legislative pay raise, it is obvious that the effort in Illinois was very ill-timed.

As the recent political campaign clearly showed, Americans all over the country are up in arms about high taxes. And they have good reason to be.

Taxes at all levels of government continue to climb at an alarming rate. Taxes tear away at the wage earner weekly pay check as savagely as does inflation.

A recent report by the Commerce Clearing House based on latest Census Bureau data showed that Americans paid an average of $664 in taxes to state and local governments in fiscal year 1975.

This was a jump of $48 from the previous year.

Illinois ranked eighth among the states in its per capita tax burden of $730. This was well above the national average, but considerably below that of only two states over the $800 per capita level were Hawaii at $852, Alaska at $842 and Massachusetts at $814.

These statistics do not take into account federal taxes including the heavy drain in income taxes and the Social Security deduction, actually a tax in itself.

It is small wonder that Mr. Taxpayer is up in arms. As far as Illinois is concerned his protests have begun bouncing against the Statehouse Dome like a hurricane of ping pong balls.

The lawmakers cannot help but get the message.

Melanie Asadorian in 'Who's Who'

Miss Melanie Rose Asadorian, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Asadorian, 217 Grand Ave., has been selected to appear in the 1977 edition of Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges.

H. Pettus Randall, director of the program at Tuscaloosa, Ala., said selections have been recognized as part of the American academic community for the past 42 years by more than 1,100 colleges and universities.

He said candidates are chosen by campus nominating committees and are based on a students average academic standing, community service and accomplishments, leadership abilities and future potentials.

Miss Asadorian is a junior student at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, majoring in music and education.

Named last month to the University's dean list, she completed the fall quarter 1976 with a 4.538 grade average out of a possible 5.0.

Miss Asadorian is active with the Major Events Council, University Center Board and Cultural Arts Council. She also serves as a university ambassador to freshman students.

Listed among her community accomplishments are winning the title of "Miss Granite City" in 1975 and "Miss Madison County Fair" of 1976.

Miss Asadorian received statewide honors in 1975 for her singing abilities as a soprano, and last year performed at major sporting events with her rendition of the National Anthem.

Mrs. Greene dies at 78

Mrs. Grace Greene, 78, of 2723 Harvey Place, ill for two months, died at 2:10 p.m. Thursday at St. Elizabeth Hospital, where she had been a patient one week.

She was born in St. Louis and resided here 55 years.

Mrs. Greene was a member of the First Baptist Church, the Ladies Bible Class, American Association of Retired Persons, the 65th Hour Club, a Home Extension Unit, senior citizen bowling league, the Kirkpatrick Homes Golden Circle Club and the Saturday Night Pinocchio Club.

Her husband, Stanley V. Greene, died in 1968.

Survivors include several cousins residing in the Quad-City area.

Funeral services will be today. Details are given in the obituary column.

expire this year and are subject to election include George Moore, Harold Davis and Donald Stucker.

School authorities favor the Saturday election date because an election held at the same time as the city and township balloting would distract attention from the school district voting.

School elections also are to be held this year in Madison District 12 and Venice District 2.

Fear fraud in watch 'sales'

Illinois Attorney General William J. Scott estimates 100,000 consumers who paid for $16.85 digital watches ordered from a company may be victims of a $1,000,000-plus mail order fraud, he alleged Thursday after obtaining a temporary court order blocking further withdrawals of money from Chicago area banks. About 100 in the local metropolitan area ordered watches through Parade and TV Guide advertisements in December but have not received them. The Teltronics, Limited, president has gone to Mexico.

Tires were not factor in deputy's death—Maeras

Madison County Sheriff John Maeras today told the Press-Record he does not believe there is any truth to allegations by a Madison County deputy coroner that worn tires may have contributed to the accident Thursday morning in which Deputy James H. Abel was fatally injured.

Maeras said he is investigating reports that up to three of the tires on Deputy Abel's patrol car were worn, but said the cars are inspected daily and he doubts the tires could have been unsafe.

He agreed that patrol cars do not use snow tires, but said they do use steel-belted radial tires, "which I understand are just as good on snow as snow tires," Maeras said today.

"No tires, not even snow tires, help much on ice," the sheriff added, noting Deputy Abel's car went out of control on slick ice and then struck a utility pole.

Maeras agreed the cars have more mileage on them than patrol cars should have. The result of the Madison County Board ordering him to try to get two years of use from each car, rather than one year.

"Our present cars average 80,000 to 85,000 miles use, and we should expect only about 50,000 to 60,000 miles and trade them in yearly, but all are in as good a shape as possible and everyone a deputy complains of a problem with a car, it is fixed immediately," he concluded.

Factors beyond his control will affect Thompson record

By KEN WATSON

SPRINGFIELD — Development beyond his control could determine the fate of Republican Gov.-elect James R. Thompson's unique two-term administration.

Thompson has been criticized lately for seemingly spending too much time in Washington and becoming mesmerized by future presidential politics.

However, the fact of the matter is that — White House dreaming aside — Thompson would be well disposed to keep a close watch on developments in the nation's capital.

For what transpires in Washington in the next six months or so could have a tremendous influence on how effective Thompson will be in steering Illinois through a difficult period.

Ironically, Thompson's own fate in Illinois is linked closely to that of Democratic President-elect Jimmy Carter, both of them untied in high office.

The unprecedented challenge facing Thompson is basically financial. His administration will glide into office in January on the thinnest ice of fiscal reserve known in decades.

A few miscalculations, a couple of bad breaks and Thompson could find himself governor of a bankrupt state and headed for early political oblivion.

Thompson was a remarkably successful prosecutor as a U.S. attorney at Chicago. Whether this legal brilliance can be switched to the administrative field is one of the big question marks of the new administration.

But even if Thompson does turn out to be an outstanding executive, trims great waste from state operations and holds the lid on spending, he still will need help from beyond the Statehouse to assure a successful administration.

He must have a strong national economy. That's where Carter comes in! No president can assure prosperity. But no other single individual can ever have an influence on the course of the economy comparable to a president's.

The financial health of Illinois depends on its two chief revenue producers, the state income tax and the sales tax.

Between them in the past fiscal year they produced more than $1.2 billion or roughly one-third of the state's $3.6 billion budget.

Both are linked directly to the national economy. The income tax, which has just nosed out the sales tax as Illinois' top revenue producer, depends on a high level of employment.

High employment and brisk retail buying fuels the sales tax and keeps money flowing into an increasingly shaky state treasury.

Unfortunately in recent years the rate of growth in income and sales tax revenue has been declining. A few years ago both taxes had growth rates in the 20s percentage-wise.

Now the growth rate is about a fourth of that.

Any further deterioration would indeed be cause for concern. For what has been keeping Illinois fiscally afloat the past several years has been an annual increase of from $400 million to $500 million in additional revenue.

The unemployment rate in Illinois has been hovering between 7 and 8 per cent during the past year. It was reported at 7.3 per cent in November by the Bureau of Employment Security. A year ago the rate was 7.8 per cent.

But there have been a number of substantial if scattered layoffs about the state since the latest report was issued and the employment picture for 1977 is far from encouraging.

As reflected in the cautious approach the president-elect is taking toward the economy, few economic experts can confidently predict what may happen in the next six months or so.

The hoped for upturn does not appear to have developed and no one can be sure that the present "stagnation" will not develop into something worse.

Another sharp hike in unemployment and a drop in consumer spending could mean big trouble for a heavily industrialized state like Illinois with a wobbly treasury.

Intruders awaken homeowner, flee

Two men who had gained entry into a home by twisting off a door knob with a clawed tool, fled back through the door when they saw Mrs. Elizabeth McHenry, 1812 August St., come from the bedroom at 12:12 a.m. Saturday.

One of the intruders was described as about 23 years old, six feet tall, weighed 165 pounds and wearing his long black hair parted in the center.

Upon arriving home from a vacation, Lonnie Wood, 935 Reynolds St., Madison, found the dwelling's rear door slammed open. With the lock having been forced, missing items had not yet been determined, the report said.

Grain dealers will discuss Alton dam

By RON CORNWELL
County Agricultural Advisor

A discussion of the Alton locks and dam controversy will be a featured topic at the University of Illinois Grain Dealers Conference.

The conference is scheduled for Jan. 19 and 20 at the Ramada Inn, Champaign.

The Alton locks and dam replacement or repair discussion will be on Wednesday afternoon, Jan. 19. The program participants will cover "Will We Build It?" and "Who Will Pay For It?"

An overview of the Alton locks and dam situation will be given by William Pearce, vice-president of Cargill.

William Sutton of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers will update the audience on the project. Dick Wilson, vice-president of barge operations, will give barge lines' views on the project.

Mark Smith, director of marketing, Missouri-Pacific Railroad, will discuss railroad's views on the project.

Other topics on the program include grain inspection and grain quality, the new grain inspection system and how it is working, and some proposals for changes in corn and soybean grading.

Topics on the second day of the program include the world fats and oils situation, price prospects for grains and soybeans, plus palm oil and its competitive position.

The 1977 urban pesticide dealers' clinic is scheduled for Jan. 13 at Augustine's Restaurant in Belleville.

The program is designed to update custom pesticide applicators who service the urban area.

A representative of the Illinois Department of Agriculture will be present at the meeting to give licensing exams to those interested in becoming licensed.

Areas covered by the exam include fruit crop pest control applicators, vegetable crop pest control applicators, landscape and turf pest control applicators, aquatic weed pest control applicators, right-of-way pest control applicators, and forest pest control applicators.

The agriculture pesticide applicators' clinic will be held Feb. 15 at Montclair Bowling.

Lanes, Edwardsville. Those interested in a commercial agriculture pest applicator license should attend this program.

Siphoning is a handy technique for emptying a pool or a stopped-up sink. But if your car, lawnmower or tractor is out of gasoline, don't try to siphon gas from another vehicle even on an emergency basis.

Clinical studies have shown that gasoline can cause serious consequences if inhaled or ingested.

The greatest danger, according to medical authorities, is not the effect in the stomach but in the lungs.

When gasoline is taken into the mouth, for example, a certain amount may enter the lungs, where it spreads out and causes immediate irritation and tissue damage.

The destruction of the tissue in turn causes the lungs to fill with fluid, and the victim literally drowns in his own fluid.

This brings up two points of safety. One is, don't sip gasoline for any purpose. Second, don't store gasoline in soda bottles or other unmarked containers where children might accidentally drink the contents.

A completely revised edition of the "Dairy Housing and Equipment Handbook" has been published by the Midwest Plans Service.

The new edition contains 104 pages of information about planning dairy facilities and constructing dairy facilities.

Chapters in the book cover: farmstead planning, milking herd housing, milking centers, calf and heifer housing, ventilation, manure management, bunk design, feeding equipment, fencing and handling equipment.

The milking center chapter contains valuable information on heating, ventilation, floor and wall construction, equipment capacity, and water supply.

Guidelines are given on planning milking parlors; holding, hospital and maternity areas; and waste disposal systems.

Cost of the revised edition is $10.00. It is purchased from Madison County Extension office.

1877 President, Senate races decided in Illinois

The still-unsettled Presidential election of Nov. 7, 1876, and the election of a U.S. senator by the General Assembly claimed a major part of the attention of Illinois newspapers in January a hundred years ago.

A check of century-old papers in the Illinois State Historical Library shows, however, there were several other events to distract Illinois from politics in January 1877.

Among these were the religious services and festivities ushering in the new year and the parades and balls ushering in a new governor—Shelby M. Cullom.

The newspapers continued to carry reports of the various moves and threats involved in the Presidential election. In dispute were 20 electoral votes which could give the election to the Democratic Gov. Samuel J. Tilden of New York. His popular vote exceeded that of Ohio's Republican governor, Rutherford B. Hayes, by more than a quarter-million.

Congress had sidestepped the issue by appointing a committee of five senators, five representatives and four Supreme Court justices, who were equally divided between Democrats and Republicans.

The four justices were to name a fifth member of the bench who would be acceptable to both sides.

The proceedings had reached this point by mid-January and the newspapers speculated that Justice David Davis of Illinois would be that fifth member.

Before this could be accomplished, however, the Illinois General Assembly stepped in and named Davis to the U.S. Senate.

On Jan. 16, the Rock Island Daily Argus reported that the state legislature's first "informal" vote had been 97 for the incumbent, John A. Logan (R), and 89 for former governor John M. Plumer (D), with seven for Davis—who had been nominated as an Independent—and a few for other candidates.

After 40 ballots over the next ten days, Springfield's Illinois State Journal announced that Davis had been "elected by the combined votes of the Independent and Democratic members of the legislature."

This saved Davis from the difficult task of naming the next President. That assignment went to Justice Joseph P. Bradley, a Republican who was acceptable to the Democrats but who then voted with his party to insure the election of Gov. Hayes.

While the Illinois senatorial election had been the month's most suspenseful political event, the inauguration of the new governor Jan. 7 was more entertaining.

The inaugural parade included more than a dozen military units from Springfield, Peoria, Jacksonville and other towns.

The inauguration took place in the new Capitol's Representatives' Hall.

The desks had been removed, and the floor "was packed with chairs crowded closely together."

The galleries were filled with ladies, who made a brilliant display.

On Jan. 1, the Chicago Inter Ocean published a three-column list of names and addresses where visitors would be welcomed, followed by the heads where others had chosen to receive.

The Evanston list was a half-column long with the comment that "not as many are receiving calls here today as usual."

The custom also was observed in Champaign, Urbana, Springfield, Jacksonville, LaSalle, Joliet, Chenoa and other towns.

In their Jan. 1 issues, the Inter Ocean and the Springfield Journal published chronologies of notable events of the past year.

In addition, the Journal listed five pages of practically all the businesses in the city by category with a paragraph or two about each.

These included many that have been outdated by the automobile, such as "Livery Stables," "Carriages and Wagons," "Feed Stores," "Saddlery and Harness" and "Street Railroads."

Letter from Washington

by Senator Charles H. Percy

The sluggish pace of the economic recovery has left unemployment suspended at a relatively high rate. Over the last 12 months, the rate of employment has fluctuated between 7.3 per cent and 8.5 per cent. In Illinois, the rate has varied from a high of 7.8 per cent to a low of 7.3 per cent.

The economy has not generated the momentum needed to break this stalemate. What is more, current national indicators do not show that the pause in recovery will be ended by early next year.

Though this month's unemployment figure for Illinois is lower than the national rate—7.3 per cent in Illinois, 8.1 per cent nationally—the state usually does not feel the impact of national economic trends for several months. And national unemployment is rising with an additional 200,000 persons out of work in November.

January will be a watershed month for economic decisions. When Congress convenes, a number of proposals for economic stimulus will be proposed and debated. While there are sure signs that the economy is improving, immediate steps will have to be taken to prod the recovery.

A tax cut has already been proposed as one means of encouraging economic growth and expansion. Unless the financial indicators for January reflect marked economic improvements, I will support a two per cent permanent rate reduction for personal and corporate income taxes.

This across the board tax cut will reduce personal taxes by $15 to $25 billion and release about $10 billion for corporate reinvestment. A permanent tax rate reduction would be far better than a one-time tax rebate.

An increase in the number of public service jobs may be needed to reduce unemployment, particularly among unskilled workers. There are currently 350,000 Americans holding public service jobs. This number should be increased to 500,000.

The difficult task of helping to create better economic conditions—lower unemployment and less inflation—will be the top priority of the new Administration and the new Congress. The well-being of every American depends on the efforts expended and the degree of success we achieve.

World imperiled by those who control energy sources

By LESTER BELL
Press-Record

Washington Bureau
The potential effect of higher Arab oil prices on an already battered world economy will be explored this week by Sen. Adlai E. Stevenson, D-Ill., and Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis. In a statement, they said the Senate Committee on Banking,

"These hearings are intended to provide a forum for exploring solutions to the increasingly intractable problem of preserving financial stability and restoring the nation and the world to vigorous economic growth—now that control over its most vital resources has been taken from its hands," they said.

The organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries (OPEC) three years ago increased the price of their oil fivefold.

Since then, oil-consuming nations have paid $25 billion more for the oil and have lost $600 billion in production.
For a second round of price increases, OPEC met at Qatar Dec. 17 and agreed on a two-tier price boost.
Saudi Arabia, the biggest producer, and the United Arab Emirates agreed to hold their increase to five per cent for the year, while the remaining 11 members said they would begin with a 10 per cent increase and raise that to 15 per cent in two stages in the next two years.

Stevenson and Proxmire think the "news from Qatar" suggested, a chink in the oil cartel's armor.

"But it forcefully demonstrates once again how the fate of the world is determined by a handful of nations which control the price of oil," the senators asserted.
They noted that the "world is still struggling to emerge from the devastating inflation and economic instability in both developed and underdeveloped countries."

between $40 billion and $60 billion.
The world economy is also faltering, they continued.
They enumerated a host of indicators:
1. Dormant capital spending plans.
2. Growing unemployment.
3. The potential for political and economic instability in both developed and underdeveloped countries.
4. Slagging debt run up by the poorer countries and little hope for repayment.
5. Overextension by international funding institutions.
6. Vast petrodollar accumulations.

7. Possible trade wars to protect domestic jobs.
"The immediate issue is not the decision announced in Qatar," Stevenson and Proxmire said. "The issue is how to prevent a deepening worldwide recession and all the political and social turmoil that portends."
They warned that "the world stands in deep peril" whether oil prices go up five per cent or 15 per cent, now or six months from now.
"Control over its fate has passed to those who control its vital supplies of energy."

State health department marks 100th anniversary

By MARY RICHARDS

The year 1977 will be very special one for the Illinois Department of Public Health. It will mark the department's one-hundredth birthday.
The state health department was "born" in July 1977, with a staff of three people and a budget of $5,000. Its only purpose was to assist local communities' attempts at improving sanitation.
Today, the Illinois Department of Public Health employs some 1,100 professional, administrative, technical and clerical workers who are engaged in providing a wide range of services which protect the health and welfare of the entire population of the state.
Today, although sanitation is still a very important public health program, the department administers or supports more than 100 different services, and administers an annual budget of more than $50 million dollars of state and federal money.
How does the state health department protect your health? What services are you receiving?

Even though you may not realize it, every day, in a variety of ways, the Illinois Department of Public Health is protecting your health and welfare... for example, when you drink milk; eat in a restaurant; swim in a public pool; drink from a public water supply; have a dental x-ray; shop for groceries; get married; divorced or have a baby; shop for toys; send your children to summer camp; need eyeglasses; visit an Illinois recreational area; and in many other everyday activities.
The department also serves those who have special health needs, such as premature babies; children who need immunizations; persons who contract venereal disease; patients who suffer from chronic renal disease; hemophilia; lead poisoning or high blood pressure; visitors to the State Fair; those who purchase mobile homes; people who need hospitalization or nursing homes; victims of sexual assault; the critically injured or victims of other life-threatening conditions; parents of babies who die from sudden infant death syndrome; "high risk" pregnant women and newborns; mothers, infants and children with serious nutritional deficiencies; school children with vision or hearing deficiencies; migrant farm workers; and many others.

Without the Illinois Department of Public Health, most of these services would probably not be available to the more than 11 million residents of the state.
So, during this centennial year of the state health department, try to think about it once in a while and about the many ways in which it helps safeguard the health and welfare of you and your family.
If you want more information about the services of the state health department, contact your local health department, or write to: Illinois Department of Public Health, Division of Education and Information, 325 West Jefferson, Springfield, Ill. 62761.

Suit challenges legality of GC licensing measure

A circuit court suit challenging the constitutionality of a Granite City ordinance that requires payment of a $500 license fee by distributors of cigarette vending machines has been filed in Circuit Court at Edwardsville, the City Council was informed last week.
The suit has been filed by Alvin S. Feldman of University City, Mo., as an individual and as operator of the Illinois Vending Co., also known as the Illinois Cigarette Sales Co., who alleged that terms of the ordinance have no regard for the number of machines to be operated under the $500 license fee.
The ordinance sets a fee of $500 for distributors of machines on premises not owned by the distributor, and a similar $500 fee for those distributors of machines on premises owned by the distributor.
The complaint charges that the failure to designate the number of machines results in a classification "which is unreasonable" and provides "no legitimate regulation."

Therefore, the ordinance violates the Equal Protection Clause of the Illinois Constitution and constitutes an "invalid exercise of police power under the U.S. Constitution," the complaint states.
Feldman asks a declaratory judgment holding the measure to be unconstitutional and requests an order requiring the city to return to him a $500 license fee.
Also referred to the city attorney was a notice of a suit filed by George Fuchs in behalf of his daughter Pamela Fuchs against Charles Wise, doing business as the General Hauling and Grading Co. and the city of Granite City.
The complaint alleges Miel Fuchs was permanently injured in an accident last June 17 when she was struck by a vehicle operated by the hauling firm at 24th Street and Madison Avenue.

The suit asks judgment for an amount adequate to compensate for the damages incurred.
In council action last week, the aldermen approved a request of Chief of Police Ronald Veizer for $500 expenses to attend the semi-annual conference of the Illinois Chiefs of Police Jan. 22 through Jan. 23.
The conference will be held at Stouffer's Riverfront Towers. Merle Justus, chief of police at Cahokia, is to be installed as president, Veizer said.
Council members also approved the purchase of a tailgate spreader for the Street Department on a bid of $2,761 by the Transportation Equipment Co. of Vandalia, Ill.
A brief discussion on the synchronization of traffic signals in the Nameoki area, in which Dick Kirch of Dron Electric Co. participated, was held by the aldermen, several of whom objected to delays at some of the signals.

Busy Tri-City Regional Port can be of further value to entire St. Louis metropolitan area as foreign trade zone

The Tri-City Regional Port District, whose facilities have been in operation since 1965, handled 1.4 million tons of goods in the latest fiscal year, about half of it representing import-export operations. It expects to handle 3.3 million tons, by 1980.

Adding to the potential is a report by Carl A. Ranft, general manager of the port district, that many local and foreign businesses have indicated strong interest in using a foreign trade zone if one can be established here.

The district last week filed an application in Washington to establish such a trade zone in its industrial park, along the Chain of Rocks Canal.

We urge the Foreign Trade Zones Board of the U. S. Department of Commerce to act favorably on the application following the February public hearing in this area.

The zone would contain 47 acres, of which 14.74 acres could be designated initially as the active portion of the zone. The balance for future expansion. The zone site is in the Tri-City Industrial Center, a 127-acre industrial park west of Route 151 (Great River Road) and along the canal.

A foreign trade zone is an enclosed, policed area in a port of entry, into which foreign goods may be transported, stored, exhibited, manufactured or reshipped before any duties are imposed. Import taxes are paid when the merchandise leaves the zone.

Damaged goods or re-exported goods are not subject to duty.

Foreign trade zones are designed to favorably impact U. S. balance of trade payments and generate employment opportunities, while saving costs for importers and re-exporters.

If the application is approved, it is believed certain that the zone will be utilized by St. Louis metropolitan area and surrounding vicinity companies. "Use of the zone can help keep such companies competitive in the markets they serve," Port Board Chairman John N. Belcoff has commented.

Work on the trade zone started in mid-1975 when the Illinois legislature and governor approved an amendment to Tri-City Port's enabling legislation, permitting the district to apply for the zone.

Belcoff adds, "The site is ideally situated for intermodal freight operations. It is served by Route 151, a four-lane divided highway with convenient access to the Interstate system. Rail access is provided directly to the site by Illinois Terminal Railroad. Access by water is through the Tri-City Port's full-service public port facilities, which can handle bulk cargo, general cargo and container shipments." The Tri-City Port has estimated the cost of putting the zone into operation at $1,375,000. Site improvements and building construction are to be financed through interim financing and revenue bonding. User fees would be collected to retire the debt incurred.

The imaginative plan can be a boon to the entire bi-state region and deserves to be implemented as rapidly as possible.

End to this state's politics of confrontation is forecast

Press-Record Springfield Bureau — There is a significant aspect of the appointment of Donald Smith to replace Alan Dixon as state treasurer that ought not be overlooked.

It is the marked contrast between the tactics employed by Governor-elect James Thompson and Gov. Dan Walker.

Thompson has displayed a willingness to compromise while Walker has gone down battling, taking a position and refusing to budge from it. Maybe state government will see an end to the politics of confrontation.

The issue of naming a replacement for Dixon became bogged down when it should not have.

Dixon ran for secretary of state and was elected. He had two options: he could resign now and let Walker appoint a successor, or he could wait until the day of his inauguration, Jan. 10, and let Thompson make the choice.

Logically so, Dixon felt he should have some voice in the appointment and he tried to reach an agreement with Walker. Dixon made a recommendation, but the governor apparently would not reciprocate.

He said, he would consider Dixon's recommendation along with other candidates, but he would not let Dixon know who the other candidates were.

Indications increased that Walker was going to let matters slide until Dixon took over his new office; then the governor would appoint a successor.

When Dixon was unable to make any progress with Walker, he began discussions with Thompson.

The compromise worked out by Dixon and Thompson is the result of their ability to sit down and find a non-political solution to the problem.

Donald Smith, although a Republican, is regarded more as a professional state employee than a politician. He pledged not to seek election to the post in 1978.

A Springfield resident, Smith is well qualified and he is respected in state circles. He has served as chief fiscal officer under three state treasurers, William J. Scott, Adlai Stevenson III and Dixon.

We are sure that his experience will guarantee continued smooth operation of the office under his tutelage.

It is unfortunate for the Democratic Party that Gov. Walker had to pursue his confrontation politics to the very end of his term in office.

We still have only Dixon's version of the latest situation; Walker refuses to provide any details.

After initially refusing to comment, Walker finally responded by attacking both Dixon and Thompson for their "deal." He carefully avoided the central issue: why he and Dixon could not make such a deal.

The people of Illinois are fortunate they will have a competent state treasurer for the next two years.

We hope that during the same period, state government will operate in a more cooperative atmosphere. Governor-elect Thompson's conduct in this matter is a good omen for the future.

Nameoki supervisor's record praised

To the Editor:

The Press-Record article of Dec. 16, when the second ticket for Nameoki Township officials was announced, was no surprise to us.

But there were several statements by Mike Ropac, their chairman with which we disagree.

Supervisor Louis Whitsell never requested to be slated with any of that organization and never ran against any of them, except the officials that he publicly rejected Sept. 2, 1976.

The Sept. 2 news report stated, "Whitsell will not be able to support the present highway commissioner, town clerk or assessor because (he believes) they failed to consider the people of the township."

Major efforts to oppose Mr. Whitsell have always developed in Nameoki Township, led by Ropac, since Whitsell refused to take orders from him in 1971.

If that committee believes that Whitsell is too indebted to other political leaders to do his job, they don't know him.

He has never been supported by the "machine" and he has always fought for the good of the people.

Each elected official is allowed, by law, to operate his own office.

No individual can overrule or otherwise influence the actions of elected officials.

Therefore, it becomes difficult to serve the people if other officials who were elected to serve citizens fail to consider citizens' needs.

It also must be pointed out that two members of that organization reported as "electable" are the Democratic and Republican precinct committeemen, do not represent the feelings of all the precinct committeemen.

It is everyone's constitutional right to run for office, but let's stop mud-slinging, because everyone in Nameoki Township knows Lou Whitsell and all the good he has done and will continue to do for the township.

Continued progress should be retained in Nameoki Township.

State bond debt service cost a major budget item

By J. RUSSELL HEFLIN

Manager, Government Operations Department

Illinois State Chamber of Commerce

Illinois taxpayers are now paying more for debt service on state general obligation bonds than for general revenue fund appropriations for the combined operating costs of the Departments of Business and Economic Development, Conservation, Children and Family Services, Agriculture, Revenue and Public Health.

The habit of borrowing against the state's full faith and credit is firmly ingrained in Illinois state government—and outstanding debt in Illinois has skyrocketed since 1970.

The funds raised by the state through the sale of general obligation (GO) bonds pay for highways, sewage treatment plants, mental health and higher education buildings, mass transit facilities, state park facilities and other expenses.

They pay for non-capital expenditures, such as veterans' bonuses.

The state's total GO bonded indebtedness was $509 million on June 30, 1965.

By 1970, it had dropped to $331 million. But by June 30, 1976, it had climbed to the record total of $2,135 billion.

That means an increase of more than 500 per cent during the six-year period since 1970.

Selling long-term bonds also means paying for them, eventually.

The debt service requirements—the annual amount needed to make the required principal and interest payments—have followed a similar down and up pattern during the last 11 years.

The debt service requirements from the state's general revenue fund during fiscal 1966 were $36,782,250.

In 1970, this total had dropped to $34,301,750.

In 1977, the current state fiscal year, it will be $112,624,550 on bonds outstanding June 30, 1976.

On top of that, the state's road fund—financed mainly by gasoline taxes and license fees—is tapped for an additional $25 million.

This brings the total GO debt service requirements for 1977 to $137,576,750, exclusive of principal and interest requirements for bonds issued during fiscal '77.

Debt service now ranks as a major state budget item. Each session, the Illinois General Assembly dutifully appropriates the money to pay the debt service, but in reality the lawmakers have little choice.

Once the bonds are sold, the state is obligated to pay the money back.

Failure to do so would bring financial catastrophe—as we saw in the case of New York City.

But Illinois is far from any New York-type situation. The state's latest GO bond offering in September was given the highest rating, AAA, by major national bond rating services.

The AAA rating assures Illinois a lower rate of interest than most other state and municipal bond issues.

In fact, Illinois was able to sell two major offerings this year at substantially under six percent net interest rate.

Ratings change, however, and each offering is rated separately on the basis of the state's economic conditions, wealth and standing at the time.

A lowered rating would be costly in terms of higher interest payments.

Illinois' strong rating also assures greater marketability of its bonds.

For instance, the September offering of $125 million brought pre-sale orders totaling $100 million. This boosts investor confidence and assures good competition in the bidding process.

All of Illinois' general obligation debt is classified as long-term. Typically, the issues are sold with maturities stretching out to 25 years.

The state also has the constitutional authority to incur short-term debt, but so far this route has been avoided.

The long-term debt made up both general obligations and, in a smaller amount, revenue bonds.

However, the revenue bonds are more a matter of fancy footwork than a true revenue bond situation.

Most revenue bonds were issued to keep within limitations under the 1870 Constitution and to finance additional state facilities.

The state legislature each year appropriates rental payments from its general funds to pay off these bonds.

So far, the rental payments have more than matched the debt service requirements.

As a matter of fact, the Illinois Building Authority has built up a sinking fund of $125 million on $396 million total of bonds outstanding.

One of the reasons for the dramatic increase in the state's GO indebtedness in recent years is the new Illinois Constitution.

Under this constitution, which went into effect July 1, 1971, it is easier to approve new bond issues, taking only a three-fifths vote of the House and Senate.

Under the previous 1870 constitution, a statewide referendum was required.

Such referendums were approved for bonds used to construct mental health institutions, buildings at state colleges and universities, and construction of municipal sewage treatment plants and solid waste disposal facilities.

More recently, bonds have been approved by the legislature for a variety of capital development projects—encourage saving.

Studies have shown that the Series E Bond—through easy, automatic purchases with the payroll savings plan—pick up new savings, money that would not otherwise have been saved.

The help establish regular savings habits.

The new habit often carries over to bank savings accounts. Second, selling savings bonds—which almost all commercial banks and many savings banks do—banks increase non-customer traffic.

These people then have the opportunity to acquaint themselves with the bank's other services, and often end up becoming regular customers.

Now, there is a real increase in community good will toward any institution which promotes a public-service program like saving bonds.

Finally—and perhaps most importantly—bankers know that savings bonds make an important contribution to national economic stability by helping to finance the public debt in a relatively low cost, noninflationary way.

By lengthening the average maturity of the privately-held portion of the debt, savings bonds reduce the need to refinance the debt and thus save every taxpayer money.

The bottom line is a better economic climate for all businesses, including banks.

The banking community, then, has solid reasons for its support of the bond program. What is its contribution here? The plain fact is that without the cooperation of banks and bankers, the bond program, as operated for 35 years, could not exist.

Professors Watson and Downing report that the "politics" now involved in the selection of Missouri judges is that of "interested parties" seeking to be heard, and not that of political parties.

The appointing process does not result in elitism—commissioners tend to select experienced trial counsel, including public prosecutors, and including more often the product of local day and evening law schools.

In Missouri, a state primarily Democratic and primarily elementary and secondary school construction, construction of highways, mass transportation facilities and public airports, and for the development of our coal resources.

Most of the growth in the state's indebtedness has been in the general obligation sector rather than in revenue bonds of its bonds.

The need to rely on revenue bonds was nullified by the new constitution, and the amount of revenue bonds outstanding has actually declined.

In the GO sector, sales of bonds by the state of Illinois have been flat.

During the last fiscal year, $450 million in GO's were floated.

The previous fiscal year saw $150 million sold. This fiscal year, another $425 million bonds are planned for sale.

That amounts to a massive amount of debt securities for a state with less than $200 million in principal amount of GO bonds outstanding as recently as 1970.

The bond sales have played a crucial part in the balancing of the governor's annual budget during recent years.

The Illinois Constitution requires the governor to submit a balanced budget each year, but allows him to count bond sales as a revenue source.

Even without new authorizations by the legislature, use of bonds to balance budgets could continue for some time.

Illinois had more than $1.5 billion in unissued authorized bonds as of June 30, 1976.

The September 1976 issue of $125 million still leaves over $1.1 billion of unissued authority.

A key question is: How much debt is too much? Top state officials do not agree.

Comptroller George Lindberg says it is not prudent to sell GO bonds at a record high price, doubling the state's per capita debt in four short years.

But Governor Daniel Walker says the relatively low interest rates which Illinois is able to maintain confirms the sound financial condition of the state.

One way of dealing with the problem is simply to treat bonding as one of many financial tools.

The State Chamber believes that the consideration of new issues of bonds should be a consideration of the normal amounts for state spending.

To treat bonding as an afterthought—or, to nearly balance the budget is misleading.

Most states using merit judge plan

(Committee on Courts and Justice)

Twelve states select judges by merit plan. The plan is a non-partisan merit selection plan of nomination and appointment.

Those states are Alaska, Colorado, Idaho, Iowa, Kentucky, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, North Dakota, Utah, Vermont and Wyoming.

In addition, the District of Columbia does so pursuant to a Congressionally-enacted statute.

Ten states have adopted merit plans for part, but less than all, of their judiciaries. They are Alabama, Arizona, Florida, Georgia, Indiana, Kansas, Maryland, Missouri, Oklahoma and Tennessee.

Alabama became the second state to adopt a merit plan when it adopted one in 1950 for selecting the judges of the trial court of Jefferson County, the largest county in that state, of which Birmingham is the county seat.

Georgia has it for municipal courts of its largest city, Atlanta.

Illiana has it for all of its appellate judges as well as the Indianapolis Municipal Court and the Superior Court in Gary.

In addition to these states, six more states and one commonwealth have adopted merit selection plans by voluntary executive action for some of their courts. These are Maine, Massachusetts, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, South Carolina and the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico.

Thus, 30 of the 52 local judges are not appointed to a partisan political basis.

Chief Justice Hyde of the Supreme Court of Missouri pointed out that only Missouri and governor appointed eight Democrats and seven Republicans.

selection of judges. Illinois in this respect is behind its neighbors Indiana, Missouri and Iowa.

It is important to remember that we are now talking not about some experiment that has yet to be tried, but an established system of non-partisan merit selection which has been tried in many states and found to be vastly superior.

After 25 years of experience with the Missouri system, two political scientists of the University of Missouri, Professors Watson and Downing, published a book-length analysis and study of the merit plan experience.

They found that six out of every eight attorneys practicing in the two major cities of the state felt that the non-partisan merit selection plan was better than the current plan.

On the surface they make a strange combination—after all, bankers offer their own savings plans which would seem to be in direct competition with savings bonds.

A look below the surface quickly reveals the reasons why the banking community has been so deeply involved in the bond program.

The plain fact is that without the cooperation of banks and bankers, the bond program, as operated for 35 years, could not exist.

First and foremost, banks are the principal issuing and redemption agents for bonds—issuing 90 per cent of all Series E bonds and handling well over 90 per cent of all redemption transactions.

The puts the bond program squarely in the midst of virtually every community in the nation, an invaluable asset for any sales program.

Bankers actively support the bond program in their local communities. They do this through promotional activities, as it has since the 1940s.

W. Addison McPeters, president of the ABA, says, "We firmly believe that the bond program, through its emphasis on saving, is in the best interests of business, banking and the American people. We will continue to support this worthy endeavor."

What really exists is a partnership; a community of interests between government, banking and the citizens of our country.

It is a partnership that has been good for all three.

The government gets money it needs to finance the debt; banks get new savers and better economic conditions.

Bank-aided savings bonds cut taxes

To the Editor:

The spirit of volunteerism has long permeated the American way of life. Thousands of good citizens have been active in volunteerism because of the willingness of individual citizens to support their time, talent and money.

Since its inception in 1941, the U. S. Savings Bonds Program has owed its success to the hundreds of thousands of individuals from all walks of life who actively support bond campaigns.

Prominent among these volunteers have been members of the banking community.

The nation's banking community is a firm supporter of the savings bonds program.

Thousands of bankers actively volunteer their time and talents to help promote bonds.

Thousands of banks issue bonds and distribute informational literature about them to their customers.

The county-level volunteer organizations—the grassroots bond sales force—are led primarily by bankers. Many state savings bonds chairmen are bankers.

How did banking and the bond program come to be so close?

On the surface they make a strange combination—after all, bankers offer their own savings plans which would seem to be in direct competition with savings bonds.

A look below the surface quickly reveals the reasons why the banking community has been

House debate transcripts available at libraries

Secretary of State Michael J. Howlett and Speaker of the House William A. Redmond have announced that transcripts of the House debates for the first 86 days of the 79th General Assembly are available in microfiche form at designated libraries throughout the state.

Debate from the remainder of the session will be available on microfiche in January.

Howlett said that microfiling of the House debates is an extension of a recent program that made the 1976 House and Senate journals available on microfiche in libraries.

"Our office has received national recognition for pioneering leadership in the field of micrographics," Howlett said. "Microfiling of the House debates and House and Senate journals are two of the first examples of in-house micropublishing in state government."

"The debates are a verbatim transcript of everything discussed on the House floor over the PA system," Redmond explained. "The journals include a summary of action taken, with roll calls showing the voting records of legislators."

First phase of the journal project was the microfiling of the 1976 journals for the second session of the 79th General Assembly. Future plans call for microfiling of journals for past sessions.

"We are eager that the public know of proposals for legislation so they can make their ideas available to their representatives," Redmond added. "Microfiche will provide rapid and timely access to the actions taking place in the General Assembly."

Howlett's Micrographics Division produced the microfiche, which are 4x6 inch microfilm sheets.

"Each sheet, or 'fiche,' contains up to 98 pages of printed information for both of these projects," Howlett explained.

"A step and repeat camera was used to produce the fiche. Pages were photographed, reduced 27 times and placed on the fiche in one operation."

"Pages can be read by inserting the fiche into a microfilm reader which projects the images on a screen."

House debates for the first 86 days of the 79th General Assembly, consisting of more than 5,000 pages, were reproduced on 84 fiche. Combined 125 House and Senate journals for 1976, with nearly 5,000 pages, were reproduced on 134 fiche.

Sets of fiche have been sent to 32 libraries in the Illinois State Library depository network (including 25 in Illinois, five outside the state, the Library of Congress and the British Library).

In addition, sets of fiche of the journals have been sent to headquarters libraries of the 18 library systems in Illinois.

A list of the names and addresses of the libraries is available from the Illinois State Library, Centennial building, Springfield.

Howlett, who by statute is also the state librarian, said:

"This is the first time that verbatim copies of the House debates and House and Senate journals have been made available to the public both timely and conveniently in Illinois libraries. Bound volumes of the journals are placed in libraries annually."

Howlett added that the use of microfiche in libraries is beginning to solve storage problems for publications and other documents.

GIGANTIC HELPER. This crane, almost 80 feet tall, is used to lower reinforcement steel and other construction materials into the Nameoki ditch near Highway 162 in preparation of concrete pouring in the first phase of the Maryville Road extension project. The $3.2 million project will link Maryville Road at its present end at Pontoon Road with Highway 162 near East 23rd Street. A box culvert is being built in the ditch to allow Maryville Road to cross it without obstructing the flow of water.

Fr. Wm. Clark assigned at Lady of the Snows

Fr. William Westman, Oblate Provincial, has announced the appointment of Fr. William Clark, OMI, to the position of administrator to the Apartment Community at the Shrine of Our Lady of the Snows.

Fr. Clark was born in East St. Louis in 1929 and attended St. Elizabeth's parish school. In 1942 he entered St. Henry's Preparatory Seminary after which he studied for seven years in Rome, receiving bachelor's and master's degrees in both philosophy and theology. Further graduate study after his ordination in July of 1965 was acquired at Bowling Green State University, Catholic University of America and the University of Notre Dame.

From 1956 to 1962 Fr. Clark taught philosophy and served as Dean at Our Lady of the Snows Scholasticate, Mississippi. After two years as Provincial Director of Studies and Superior at the Provincial residence in St. Paul, he returned to his previous position at the scholasticate. For over nine years, Fr. Clark acted as director of the Oblate Seminary program at Lewis University and academic vice-president the last four.

Fr. Clark arrived at the Shrine of Our Lady of the Snows in June to work with Fr. Edwin Guild, OMI, at the Oblate League Office. He assumes this position as administrator with ample qualifications, and with much enthusiasm. Fr. Westman said.

Fr. Clark views his job as one of "service to be carried out in various ways but always with the goal of providing the conditions and the atmosphere which will allow the apartment community residents to enjoy a truly happy life in both a human and Christian sense."

GETTING TO THE BOTTOM OF THINGS. Three of the permanent residents of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville apparently are studying something beneath the surface of Tower Lake on the campus. On the other hand, the ducks may have been hiding to avoid ending up as the main course of a New Year's dinner.

Babson

could depress production readings for a month or two, but even then business activity for the second half should be able to hold above the prior year.

Admittedly, however, the advances over a year ago will likely be more moderate in the second half than for the first two quarters of the approaching annum.

LIGHT OVERCAST AHEAD

While overall prospects for 1977 are favorable, the economy will not be free of trouble spots. One of the most important will be the dampened but still unquenched fire of inflation, which in recent years has wrought havoc with public confidence.

Part of the inflation potential is the economy's vulnerability to rising energy costs from a hike in OPEC oil prices and the possibility of even higher prices for domestic natural gas.

There will also be pressure on industrial wholesale prices in the wake of climbing wages and other operating costs.

In addition, the labor front will be active again. Besides the steel industry, the railroads and some construction groups face contract negotiations.

On the international scene, there will be military and monetary points that must be carefully watched.

GROSS NATIONAL PRODUCT

U.S. gross national product (GNP)—the value of goods and services produced—will rise in dollars should be able to score an increase approximately 12 percent over 1976.

This is not widely at variance from the rate of expansion scored by GNP in 1976 over 1975. Because of the pattern of year-to-year growth during 1976, the margin in the first quarter, but disappointingly modest gains in the ensuing three quarterly periods—the GNP in 1977 may well score its widest improvement during the second quarter.

In terms of constant dollars (ex inflation), the nation's real GNP will move ahead at a milder pace.

The rate of inflation is expected to account for about half the GNP in current dollars, which means that the real GNP may increase by only about 6 percent over the deflated GNP of 1976.

Although such an increment may seem moderate, it would actually represent a respectable annual rise in terms of the economy's historical rate of growth.

STRENGTH FROM THE PRIVATE SECTOR

A vital feature of the outlook for 1977 business is the likelihood that the bulk of the anticipated upturn will stem from the private sector of the economy.

Consumer expenditures for personal consumption should be in the forefront of the rise in the GNP. Over much of 1976, consumers have been reluctant to buy, but the staff of Babson's Reports looks for some loosening of purse strings in the year ahead.

There should be good support from residential construction too, especially since multi-family units have showed signs of a rebound in the latter days of 1976, whereas most of the comeback in home building had previously been borne by single-family units.

Spending on services, long in a well defined upturn, should continue to move higher.

There will be increased government spending, but this will not bolster demand for goods substantially as much of the rise in outlays must be allocated for wages, climbing prices for supplies, and debt service.

INFLATION WILL REMAIN WORRISOME

In 1976, some progress was made in the task of braking the inflation rate.

Much credit must be accorded the food sector, which benefited from another bumper outturn of agricultural products. In the second half of 1976, however, prices of industrial commodities took a turn upward.

Though the fever of inflation has been dramatically lowered from the heights of 1973 and 1974, it has not been completely beaten in the way of forward buying.

The tempo of inflation during 1977 is expected to average around 6 percent, showing little change from that of 1976.

While there is still considerable under-utilized productive capacity to militate against a sharp resurgence of inflation, a downward tendency in food prices will not be notable in the year ahead.

Furthermore, increases in wages and operating expenses will be reflected in price mark-ups, tempered only by the limiting factor of competition.

Hence, in public psychology, inflation will undoubtedly continue to be a dark threat.

Such concern could become greatly aggravated if government spending and the money supply should be emphasized in an effort to solve the serious unemployment problem.

INDUSTRIAL PRODUCTION

During much of 1976, industrial output trended upward. But some hesitancy was seen in the late summer and early fall due in part to the auto strike and the deceleration in the economy.

The pause in the recovery of industrial activity, however, should be a dark threat.

At such a time, the fact of ample underutilized productive capacity forces management to focus on the activation of existing facilities.

Not until the surplus productive capacity diminishes will budget allocations for new capital equipment become markedly more liberal.

While there are still differences of opinion as to how much surplus productive capacity actually exists in the economy, the rate of industrial output has certainly reached a level where management thinking turns increasingly to the matter of hiking capacity and making overall operations more efficient.

The fact is that 1976 has experienced some pickup in orders for capital equipment, though on a spotty basis. During 1977 we expect business capital outlays to advance approximately 10 percent over the 1976 average.

Much of this will be the result of purchases of new equipment rather than large-scale construction of new plants or additions. Environmental protection requirements will continue to capture a significant share of business capital expenditures.

So, there is little likelihood that 1977 will see a capital spending boom of the type that nurtured the periods of economic upsurge in the 1950s and 1960s, even though President-elect Carter's campaign for revitalizing the economy will likely incorporate some measures in the real GNP because the production index does not include services—and make-work programs to reduce the jobless ranks will doubtless emphasize service-type employment.

Still, industrial production will move into new high ground, at least during the first half of the year.

Among the stronger lines should be autos and trucks, motor vehicle parts (both original and replacement items), aluminum, fabricated metal products, lumber and forest products, computer and peripheral equipment, home furnishings, and minerals extraction (assuming no protracted coal mine strike).

CHANGE IN INVENTORY POLICIES

During parts of 1973 and 1974, businessmen unwisely stockpiled inventories in anticipation of higher prices and possible shortages, and at a time of already brisk demand.

This demand sustained business at a peak level some six months or so, but when the inevitable correction arrived, virtual panic liquidation precipitated the painful recession of late 1974 and early 1975.

Since then, inventory policies have been wary. Until recently there has been little incentive to do much in the way of forward buying.

After all, consumer demand has been indecisive and spotty, and there has been more than enough productive capacity for most items. But some inventory accumulation is likely, much of this in steel and ferrous-based products as a hedge against a possible steel strike.

Stronger consumer demand and the upturn in industrial commodity prices will also encourage forward buying, though we doubt that inventory accumulation will be carried to excess.

MORE SUPPORT FROM CAPITAL SPENDING

Economic observers who have been skeptical of the current business recovery have focused on the lack of vibrancy in business investment for new plant and equipment.

This is not an abnormal problem, however, during the early-to-middle phase of an economic cyclical expansion.

At such a time, the fact of ample underutilized productive capacity forces management to focus on the activation of existing facilities.

Not until the surplus productive capacity diminishes will budget allocations for new capital equipment become markedly more liberal.

While there are still differences of opinion as to how much surplus productive capacity actually exists in the economy, the rate of industrial output has certainly reached a level where management thinking turns increasingly to the matter of hiking capacity and making overall operations more efficient.

The fact is that 1976 has experienced some pickup in orders for capital equipment, though on a spotty basis. During 1977 we expect business capital outlays to advance approximately 10 percent over the 1976 average.

Much of this will be the result of purchases of new equipment rather than large-scale construction of new plants or additions. Environmental protection requirements will continue to capture a significant share of business capital expenditures.

So, there is little likelihood that 1977 will see a capital spending boom of the type that nurtured the periods of economic upsurge in the 1950s and 1960s, even though President-elect Carter's campaign for revitalizing the economy will likely incorporate some measures in the real GNP because the production index does not include services—and make-work programs to reduce the jobless ranks will doubtless emphasize service-type employment.

Still, industrial production will move into new high ground, at least during the first half of the year.

Among the stronger lines should be autos and trucks, motor vehicle parts (both original and replacement items), aluminum, fabricated metal products, lumber and forest products, computer and peripheral equipment, home furnishings, and minerals extraction (assuming no protracted coal mine strike).

CHANGE IN INVENTORY POLICIES

During parts of 1973 and 1974, businessmen unwisely stockpiled inventories in anticipation of higher prices and possible shortages, and at a time of

CORPORATE PROFITS

Business profits in 1976 scored a sizable increase over the year before.

This reflected generally favorable raw materials costs, selected price increases, and high levels of operations.

We anticipate another good increase in 1977, but the tempo of advance will undoubtedly be considerably slower than that of 1976.

On the strength of the projected further climb in business profits, the 10 percent gain in business profits for 1977 over those for 1976 should be attained.

This will appear pale compared with the estimated 25 percent rise for 1976, but there will be plenty of room for more liberal dividend disbursements in the coming year now that corporate liquidity has been materially improved.

It is more than likely, however, that the biggest year-to-year gains in corporate profits will occur in the first two quarters of 1977.

ANOTHER BUSY LABOR FRONT

With the spotlight on the steel industry's negotiations over new union contracts, 1977 promises to be another year of peak activity on the labor front.

Though not quite as numerous as in 1976, major labor pacts expiring in 1977 will still involve close to 3 million workers. In addition to steel, other sectors facing contract talks include communications, aluminum, clothing, and facets of the construction field.

There could be trouble in the coal fields again, with a repeat of the wildcat walkouts of 1976. And infighting for the top spots of several unions could produce some unwanted work stoppages.

Despite labor's support for President-elect Carter in the 1976 presidential race, there will probably be a strong appeal from the White House for moderate, noninflationary demands in contract talks.

But union negotiators will almost certainly press for all the traffic will bear in direct wage increases and a wide variety of fringe benefits, spurred by the inflation-eroded purchasing power of take-home pay over much of the past three years and graded anew by fears of additional inflationary spasms in the years just ahead.

At this time, however, the position of wage-price controls does not seem likely, though the threat of such action might be subtly used to fashion peaceful and moderate union settlements.

BUILDING AND CONSTRUCTION

From a low point in early 1975 of a seasonally adjusted annual rate of well below a million units, new private housing starts commenced a recovery which continued during 1976.

The climb was erratic and fell short of the feverish peak range in excess of two million units marking parts of 1971-73, but the late summer and fall weeks of the past year experienced notable strength.

With mortgage money adequate to ample and with mortgage interest rates far less prohibitive than they were in the credit crunch not too long ago, Babson's Reports forecast a rise in new housing starts for 1977, aided by the perkier pace of multi-family housing construction late in 1976.

However, with high building costs, burdensome property taxes, and restrictive conservation, environmental, and zoning regulations acting as strong deterrents to large-scale speculative building, it is unlikely that 1977 can reach the 2-million-units mark for the year as a whole.

A goal of 1.5 million starts seems more realistic at this juncture, compared with about 1.5 million for 1976. Industrial and commercial construction will make only modest gains in the coming year.

EMPLOYMENT—PERSONAL INCOME—WAGES

Nineteen Hundred Seventy-seven prospects for employment and personal income favor new record levels for both of these vital economic sectors.

Employment in manufacturing and services should be augmented by a quickening in the building field which has been lackluster over the past two years.

The average factory work week should lengthen somewhat. Thus, with improvement in wage rates and salaries, the outlook for personal income in 1977 is for a climb of some 12 percent.

Transfer payments and investment income should also provide some uplift. But net after taxes will not rise commensurately with gross personal income.

Also, unemployment will remain a sticky problem, around 7 percent.

CONSUMER AND GOVERNMENT SPENDING

Total consumer spending is expected to rise stronger in 1977 than was the case in 1976. While this will be due in part to higher prices, the unit volume of purchasing should also be up by a comfortable margin.

Increased employment and rising income levels will make public confidence more positive.

Consumers, however, are extremely sensitive to the threat of inflation and rising prices could bring about spells of resistance.

Public expenditures at all levels of government will increase in 1977, a result of both inflation and a plethora of assistance and social programs. State and local governments will be forced to make some trade-offs because of budget and debt squeezes, plus the mounting demand by rate taxpayers for spending curbs.

As for the federal government, higher spending is already assured by the present budget which will cover the first nine months of calendar 1977 and by still heavier defense outlays for fiscal 1978 which will be in effect over the final three months of 1977.

Federal outlays may be lifted further if efforts to stimulate business and reduce unemployment should take a more ambitious tack than now seems likely.

FARM OUTLOOK

American agricultural prowess was again displayed in 1976 by the third-best crop year on record.

Going into 1977, there will be good carryovers of most farm commodities. This would seem to imply planting curtailments and/or changes in the crop mix of plantings in the coming year, but the steadily worsening world food gap suggests government pressure and may be in food production. This may well take the shape of some plan for a food bank.

WASHINGTON—FOREIGN AFFAIRS

The new Administration will have a favorable initial rapport with Congress, but how long the honeymoon lasts remains to be seen.

Differences in the degrees of liberalism between President-elect Carter and Members of Congress as well as divergences among Congressmen themselves indicate that the platform of the Democratic Party cannot be taken as fait accompli.

Initially, efforts will be made to spur consumer spending—probably through a $50 tax rebate—and to create jobs. Since most other objectives will take time, national health insurance, reorganization of the government, and a national energy policy may not materialize in 1977.

One good thing, however, is that there should be less political rhetoric poor-mouthing the economy in such ways as to upset consumers and investors.

Unless something unexpected forces international affairs into top spot, domestic matters will hold the spotlight at the White House for a while.

Regardless of pre-election comments, foreign policy under Carter may differ little from Ford's approach, except for the Mideast situation and the "fly in the omelette" tactic of recent years.

Though Carter is ostensibly more jealous of U.S. interests in Sino- and Soviet-American relations, the spirit of détente will not be written off.

Granted, with the ongoing ferment in the world's trouble spots 1977 will undoubtedly have its share of near-conflagrations, but Babson's predicts there will be no World War III outbreak in the year ahead.

MONEY SUPPLIES

Easy money forces on Capitol Hill and in the Carter camp seek even more liberal expansion of money supplies.

While the Fed is leery of the inflation danger, we feel that there will be enough money and credit for legitimate business needs.

Yet, unlike 1976, stronger demand for funds will mean at least some stiffening in money rates. Look for the prime rate to reach 8 percent by the end of 1977.

Long-term rates will tend to firm also, but not to any great degree.

STOCK AND BOND OUTLOOK

Babson's Reports looks with optimism on stock and bond prospects for 1977.

Good stocks are available well below historical peaks, and the odds favor a space of dividend increases.

The basic upturn of the Dow Jones Industrial Average should resume, and new high ground be reached.

A reasonable range for the DJIA appears to be 1200 on the high side and 850 on the low side for the year.

While bond prices have rallied in 1976 and interest rates may rule moderately higher in 1977's latter half, the income-oriented investor can tie down some good yields in quality bonds especially at this time.

For growth and appreciation portfolios, Babson's currently favors better quality common and convertibles in such fields as computers, electronics, insurance, drug and hospital supplies, savings & loans, fuel and energy, trucks, and building supplies.

Dr. Estrada to practice at Venice

Dr. (Mrs.) Corazon Estrada, MD, of St. Louis, will begin practice in Venice the latter part of January, according to Mayor William M. Ebersoldt.

"We are pleased to have Dr. Estrada come to our city. Many people have been working hard to acquire the services of a physician and special credit should go to Mrs. Margaret Lee," Ebersoldt said.

Dr. Estrada will have offices at Oriole Street and Broadway in the building formerly occupied by Dr. Jacob Chaffin. The offices are being remodelled.

Dr. Estrada is married to a medical doctor, Aesun Estrada, who practices in St. Louis. They have four sons, the eldest a pre-medical student at St. Louis University.

Public hearing

A public hearing to discuss proposals for the Venice Title VII project will be held at 7 p.m. Wednesday in the Venice School Library. Continuation of the project MICRO (Mathematics, Interpersonal Relations, and Communication and Reading Opportunities) is among the projects for which an application is being prepared.
